AMENDMENT PLANNED . . .

Solon Scuttles Obscenity Bill

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Sen. Harold Simpson of Lincoln Tuesday agreed to scuttle his proposed legislation prohibiting "obscene entertainment" in Nebraska.

In its place, Simpson will present an amendment to present laws which would protect motion picture machine operators and employes from liability in the event a film is found to be obscene.

Simpson's original bill, LB419, would have outlawed any drama, play, exhibition, show or entertainment "which would tend to the corruption of the morals of youth or others."

Legislature News On Pages 10 and 11

'Unconstitutional'

That proviso, Lincoln attorney Charles Thone told the Legislature's Judiciary Committee, would have been "patently unconstitutional."

Thone, speaking for the Nebraska Theatre Assn., said the state already has a strong obscenity act, one which cleared a test of constitutionality in the State Supreme Court in 1964.

Also opposing the bill was the Nebraska Civil Liberties Union.

The proposal was held for Simpson's amendment.

Also held for later consideration was LB683, which would authorize the use of city and county prisoners for public works labor, including work upon public roads and highways.

Opposition to the proposal, authored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, was voiced by the State AFL-CIO and the Associated General Contractors.

Convict labor would be in competition with free labor, State AFL-CIO President Richard Nisley of Omaha noted, and therefore "grossly unjust."

Unfair Competition

James Critchfield of Lincoln, speaking for AGC, said LB683 would permit governmental units to unfairly compete with private business for road work.

The bill was supported by spokesmen for Douglas County and Hall County, and held for later consideration along with similar legislation scheduled for hearing next month.

Sent to the floor on a 6-0 vote was LB155, which establishes a tort claims act for subdivisions of state government.

A proposed amendment to exempt public power districts was rejected.

SUICIDE SQUADS ATTACK

A SAILING WE WILL GO?

Some Lincoln streets seem better adapted to boats than to cars, these days, what with the size of the chuck-holes and the water that fills them. But we will admit this hole in Ninth Street near F looks a bit bigger than it is because the boat's actually a very small one. (Staff Photo by Bob Gorham.)

Marines Fight Hand To Hand

. . . COMPANY HURT BADLY

Saigon (AP) — North Vietnamese suicide squads acting namese suicide squads acting as human bombs smashed into two U.S. Marine artillery bases Tuesday in attacks that brought the new enemy offensive near the demilitarized zone. The assaults were repulsed in bloody hand-to-hand fighting, but one Leatherneck company was badly mauled.

As the offensive entered its fourth day Wednesday, the U.S. Command reported that enemy battle deaths were approaching 3,000. American deaths were over 200 and South Vietnamese deaths over 340.

More than 50 overnight attacks were reported Wednesday morning against allied bases and Vietnamese towns.

The fighting Tuesday near the DMZ was the heaviest in the area since the bombing halt of North Vietnam Nov. 1.

Barrage Is Intense

The biggest attack came at Fire Base Russell, two miles south of the buffer zone dividing North and South Vietnam. In the early morning darkness, the enemy opened up with an intense mortar barrage. Then came the suicide squads.

The Marine commander reported that enemy sappers taped 25-pound bundles of TNT on their backs, wrapped the detonating cord around their chests, and then charged to blast lanes through the Marine barbed wire defenses.

"At least two were wounded as they reached the lines of the perimeter and became entangled in the wire," he said. "When Marines went toward them at first light they pulled the detonating device and blew themselves up."

Howitzers Not Enough

The Marines on the hilltop base lowered the muzzles of their 105mm howitzers to eye-level sighting and fired point blank at the attackers but could not turn them back.

As the North Vietnamese burst into the perimeter, the Marines rose and met them in personal duels, the commander reported.

"In heavy hand-to-hand combat one Marine beat an enemy soldier to death with a hand grenade when the Marine's weapon misfired," he said. "A Marine gunnery sergeant killed five enemy with a 12-inch knife."

When the smoke of battle cleared after 2½ hours of close-quarter fighting, Marines reported they counted the bodies of 35 North Vietnamese either on the wire or inside the base, but the cost had been heavy. Of the company of about 150 Marines, 20 were killed and 95 wounded.

Athwart Red Route

Fire Base Russell is 32 miles inland from the coast and stands across an enemy infiltration route from the demilitarized zone. But it was not known whether the enemy came from there.

Fire Base Neville, four miles to the west and three miles below the DMZ, was attacked three hours earlier but the Marines repulsed the enemy while suffering eight killed and 20 wounded.

The Marines reported 21 North Vietnamese were killed.

Although mortar rounds continued to drop on the two bases, Marine helicopter pilots began a shuttle to evacuate the wounded.

Reports early Wednesday said the government resettlement village of Kong Ho Ring, six miles south of Dak To, was shelled by mortars and then attacked by Viet Cong troops who destroyed 125 homes. On the basis of the early reports, the incident appeared to be the worst of its kind in the new offensive.

Total estimated civilian casualties were about 170 killed and 500 wounded during the four-day period.

The headquarters base of the 25th Infantry Division at Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon, was hit by an enemy force early Wednesday that broke into the air base and destroyed or damaged nine helicopters. Over-all U.S. casualties in the battle were said to be light. At least 17 enemy bodies had been found.

Other overnight attacks reported Wednesday morning hit airports, artillery bases and landing zones of U.S. forces in several provinces north and west of Saigon toward the Cambodian border.

Key Leader Of Buddhists Said Seized

New York Times Service

Saigon — In the early morning darkness three days ago, when the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were shelling South Vietnam's cities, police swarmed through the gates of the Buddhist Youth Center on the edge of Saigon.

After a thorough search of the center's many rooms and gardens, they seized the Venerable Thich Thien Minh, one of the most militant and recently outspoken Buddhist leaders, and 50 to 60 youths.

At a news conference at city hall, police and government officials said the Buddhist center was raided after an arrested Viet Cong leader had told them Viet Cong were operating there.

Nixon Talks With British Leaders, Citizens

New York Times Service

London — President Nixon emphasized issues of European security and international trade Tuesday in talks with British political leaders and private citizens.

He reaffirmed the long-standing American position in favor of British entry into the European Common Market. But he avoided taking sides in, or even discussing, the current diplomatic blow-up between Britain and France on that issue.

It was a long day of conversation and ceremony for the President. He lunched with Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace, laid a wreath in Westminster Abbey, after an unscheduled visit to the House of Commons, and had two long sessions at 10 Downing Street, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's residence.

Meets 19 Citizens

What may have been the most interesting event of the day was a novel one for such international visits — a discussion with 19 private men invited to Nixon's suite at Claridge's Hotel. Scheduled for an hour, it continued for an extra half-hour.

The President asked his guests for their views on such matters as American trade policy and the future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Those were the dominant topics, but he also conversed about the mood of young people today.

"The overriding impression was of very, very great moderation," one man said. "He made no political points outside the safe middle of the spectrum. He seems likely to follow policies not involving too much risk."

Official Talks Friendly

The official government line was that the talks with Wilson and his colleagues were exceedingly friendly and that a good relationship had quickly been established.

From the point of view of the British public, the visit here has not been a matter of great fascination. Despite extensive television and press coverage, crowds have been rather small, and there has been nothing like the excitement attending President Kennedy's visit in June, 1963.

As he left Buckingham Palace, Nixon suddenly ordered his car stopped, got out and shook hands with several persons in a crowd of about 200. Security men in a front car had gone 150 yards on before they realized what was happening and turned back.

And At Claridge's

Later, when he returned to his hotel, Claridge's, he walked across the street on the spur of the moment to shake hands with spectators and policemen.

The biggest surprise for his Secret Servicemen — in fact, the event that much of the British press headlined — was the visit to the House of Commons. It was said to be the first by an incumbent American president, although Nixon personally has been there twice before.

Visitors ordinarily sit upstairs in the gallery. But the President — apparently for security reasons — sat on the floor in the corner of a back row used by officials who are not members of Parliament. He was underneath the gallery, out of sight of nearly everyone.

Watches Wilson

The President watched Wilson in the chore he performs every Tuesday and Thursday — answering members' questions for 15 minutes. As usual, Wilson was deft and brisk in his replies.

Though the printed questions dealt with such matters as Biafra, the seabed and NATO, members managed repeatedly in supplementary questions to refer to Nixon. The rules forbade any actual mention of his being in the house, so the bland references to him drew much laughter.

At Downing Street, the principal subject was NATO. Nixon mostly listened.

PRESIDENT, right . . . is met by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

C. PETER MAGRATH

Magrath May Be Next NU Faculty Dean

Dr. C. Peter Magrath will be recommended for appointment as the new dean of faculties for the University of Nebraska's Lincoln campuses, it was reported Tuesday.

The Board of Regents is expected to take action on the recommendation at its next meeting March 10 in Omaha.

Magrath, 35, has been dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at NU since last summer. He came to Nebraska from Brown University.

NU Lincoln President Dr. Joseph Soshnik said he will recommend that the appointment be effective April 1.

Acting Chancellor Dr. Merk Hobson, who has served as dean of faculties for the Lincoln campuses since 1966, will continue to act as vice chancellor in charge of academic affairs for the total university.

Lincoln Man Fighting For Gas Price Signs

Petitions are being circulated in Lincoln in support of having gas stations advertise their prices on large signs within public view.

Jim Dier, 4445 Pawnee, said Tuesday he began circulating the petitions in opposition to an ordinance amendment introduced at Monday's City Council meeting which would permit signs showing gas prices to be only on gas pumps.

Dier said the ordinance amendment, if passed, would give the large service stations an unfair advantage over the stations that provide low cost gas.

"I am just a little man with two cars who likes to buy gas as cheap as I can —just like the other motorists in the city," he said.

Dier said such an ordinance would eliminate competitive business because there would be no way for motorists to know which gas stations offer low prices until they pulled up to the pump.

Dier said an ordinance which provides for hiding the price on the pump would likely be ruled unconstitutional in the courts as an unfair trade practice.

Dean Hansen, assistant city attorney, said the ordinance is patterned after the state law in Massachusetts regarding gas prices which he said was ruled constitutional in the Masachusetts court.

Summer Job Training Urged For Public Schools

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Establishing a summer on-the-job training program for all secondary vocational programs in the Lincoln Public Schools was recommended to the Board of Education Tuesday.

Industrial arts coordinator Robert Law proposed extending the secondary vocational programs to year-around training similar to the agriculture-related program operated during the past two summers.

The 12-month training, according to Law's recommendation, would include finding a student a summer job with school supervision in a business or industry for practical application of his vocational training.

Supt. John Prasch told the board that the proposal is mainly a problem of economics in finding the money to hire teachers for the summer work. However, he added, recent federal legislation may make funds available to local schools for such programs.

Law also proposed establishing advisory committees of representatives from the business and industrial community for both high school and adult industrial education programs.

Advisory committees and on-the-job training would "provide for a better working relationship" between the staff, students and business and industrial community, he said.

This field of study constantly needs to be updated for the latest techniques and equipment so that students obtain relevant vocational training, he indicated.

The industrial arts consultant also recommended that at least one guidance counselor in each high school be a vocationally trained person with a business and-or industrial background.

Law described the industrial education programs in the junior high and high schools and reported enrollments in the various courses.

Other recommendations for improving the industrial arts and driver education programs included:

—Improving placement and follow-up programs for vocational students.

—Providing and utilizing industrial arts techniques, materials and equipment to elementary schools to aid teachers and integrate some instruction into the existing curriculum.

—Making elective subjects more available on the junior high level.

—Installing a driving range with a radio system which would enable the district to use student teachers in driver training and to lengthen the "behind the wheel" instruction.

Prasch indicated that the school's biggest problem is to define areas of school responsibility in vocational education and to find other sources for funds and training assistance.

More Inflation Is Ahead

. . . RETAIL, WHOLESALE PRICES RISE AGAIN

Washington (UPI) — The government reported Tuesday that the economy's inflationary trend pushed into the new year, sending retail prices up 0.3% in January.

Wholesale prices continued their rise, indicating still more inflation ahead.

The wholesale price index climbed 0.8%, an unusually high one-month jump. This meant that retail prices can be expected to increase in the months ahead.

'Not That Closely'

"The wholesale price index doesn't follow the retail index that closely," a spokesman said, however. "Its effect won't automatically mean higher retail prices next month."

The boost in the index of retail consumer prices computed by the Labor Department reflected a climb from 123.7% in December to more than 124.1% in January of the 1957-59 base period.

This meant it would require $12.41 in January to buy the goods and services that $10 would have bought in 1957-59. In pre-war terms, it would require $25.62 to buy what $10 would buy in 1939.

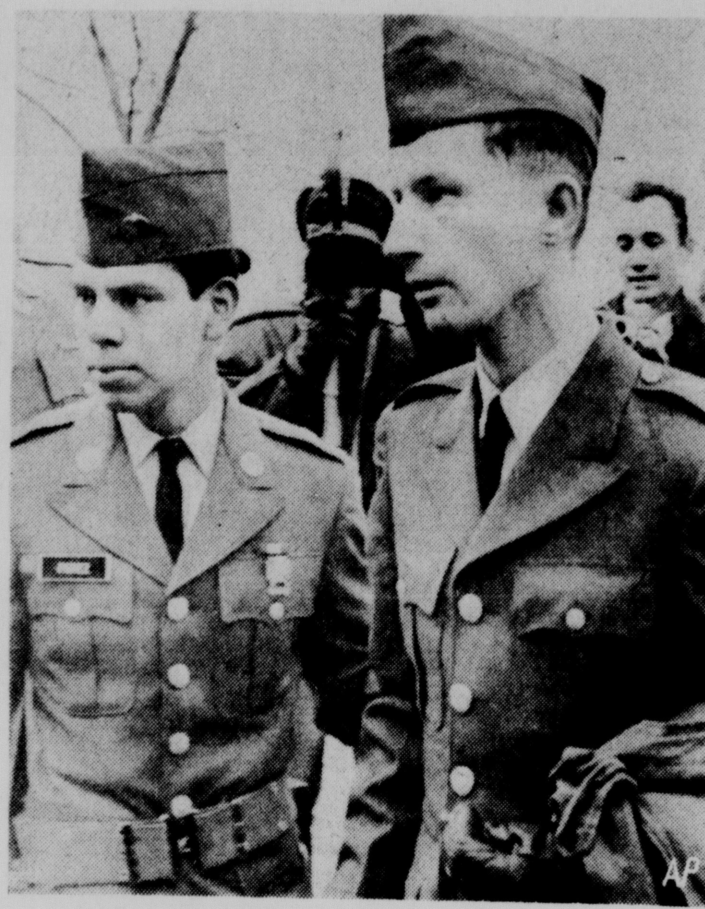
Demand Pressing Prices

"Demand is putting pressure on prices — it's as simple as that," said Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The news was bleak for the Nixon administration, which has pledged itself to curb inflation without causing a serious rise in unemployment.

The January gain in prices was half again as large as December's of 0.2% however, the month's rise in prices was less than the overall average monthly gain of 0.4% recorded in 1968.

In terms of purchasing power, wage earners suffered a loss of 54 cents a week in January. Part of this was accounted for by higher Social Security withholding from paychecks.



DEFECTOR GOES ON TRIAL

Spec. 4 Edwin C. Arnett, 30, of Santa Ana, Calif., right, went on trial at Ft. Dix, N.J., Tuesday in what military officials said was the first court-martial of a defector from the Vietnam war. Arnett, a cook, left his unit in Vietnam and defected to Sweden. He is escorted by Pfc. Jose Perez of El Paso, Tex., a guard.

Student Sets Self Ablaze, Dies In Wenceslas Square

Prague (AP) — A student splashed gasoline on his clothing Tuesday, set himself afire, dashed into downtown Prague's Wenceslas Square and died.

Reports circulated through the hushed crowd that the victim, Jan Zajic, 19, was the second of five students who swore to die by fire to protest the Soviet occupation. The first was Jan Palach, now a national hero.

Zajic died about 100 yards from the spot where Palach set himself afire Jan. 16. Palach died three days later in a hospital.

Some people in the crowd said Zajic chose Feb. 25 to burn himself because it was the anniversary of the day in 1948 that the Communists came to power in Czechoslovakia.

Czechs were calling Zajic "the second human torch."

Witnesses said Zajic left a folder of statements and letters including one reportedly calling on the government to act on Palach's demands for an end to censorship and to the Soviet circulated propaganda sheet Zpravy.

Officials said only that Zajic left behind some letters indicating he had political reasons for setting himself afire.

In other developments, Communist Party leader Alexander Dubcek declared that the nation's main danger came from "anti-Socialist and right-wing forces."

Foreign Relations Committee OKs Nuclear Spread Ban By 14-0 Vote

© New York Times Service

World News

Washington — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved without dissent Tuesday the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, clearing the way for probable ratification by the United States next month.

The treaty is designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

The committee also moved toward adoption of a resolution designed to curb what it regards as the proliferation of foreign commitments. Ready to be adopted by the committee is a sense-of-the-Senate resolution calling upon the executive branch not to enter into any further foreign commitments without the "affirmative action" of Congress.

The 8-month-old nonproliferation treaty was approved by a 14-0 vote with Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D Conn., abstaining by voting "present." Floor debate on the treaty was expected to start late next week. Senate approval is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

With Senate approval, the Nixon administration will be in a position to ratify the treaty next month.

The belated U.S. ratification is expected to lead the way for approval of the treaty by the Soviet Union and some of the non-nuclear countires, such as West Germany and Japan, which have been expressing reservations about agreeing to the treaty's conditions. Under the treaty, the nuclear powers pledge not to distribute nuclear weapons and the non-nuclear countries pledge not to acquire the weapons.

Britain Has Ratified

The treaty would go into effect after being ratified by the U.S., Britain and the Soviet Union plus 40 other nations — a point that the State Department expects will be reached next fall. Thus far the treaty has been signed by 87 nations but ratified by only nine, including Britain.

It was the second time the committee approved the treaty, first submitted to the Senate last July by President Johnson. The committee approved the treaty last September by a 13-3 vote with three senators abstaining.

Kiesinger Calls For Russia To Give Sign

© New York Times Service

Bonn — Chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger declared Tuesday that "in these unquiet times the German and Soviet governments should give a sign that through a practical solution a service to the cause of peace can be performed."

He said this to his federal cabinet after describing the progress of efforts to eliminate a serious controversy with the Soviet Union and East Germany over Berlin.

East Germany late Tuesday night agreed to open negotiations but the two sides still remained far apart. The East Germans said they were ready to offer an agreement only for the Easter holiday, while the West called for a long-term agreement to cover at least the period of one year.

The Communists want West Germany to shift the site of its presidential election away from West Berlin. In exchange they have hinted at a willingness to ease restrictions on visits of West Berliners to East Berlin.

With the presidential election March 5, the chief government spokesman, Guenther Diehl warned for the second time in 24 hours that "speed is of the essence" if an agreement is to be made.

Mayor Klaus Schuetz of West Berlin asked Willi Stoph, the East German minister, what he had to offer in exchange for shifting the federal electoral assembly away from Berlin.

Laos Reds Hold 100 U.S. Pilots

Vientiane, Laos (AP) — About 100 U.S. pilots have been shot down and captured in bombing raids on Laos and the Communist-led Pathet Lao is holding them in secret jungle prison camps, informed sources reported Tuesday.

Despite intensive efforts by the U.S. Embassy, and the International Red Cross and by some families of the downed fliers, not one word on the fate of the missing men is known.

Some sources have expressed serious concern for the welfare of the pilots because of extremely harsh and often brutal treatment meted out by Laotian Communists to American and European prisoners.

There were some hopes that some pilots have been transferred the custody to North Vietnamese, who are believed to give prisoners better treatment.

Australian, New Zealand Forces To Stay In Malaysia, Singapore

© New York Times Service

Wellington — Australia and New Zealand announced Tuesday that they will maintain military forces in Malaysia and Singapore after the withdrawal of British defenses there in 1971.

The commitment by the two governments, though relatively small in terms of weapons and manpower, is viewed in Wellington and Canberra as far reaching and new in the defense concepts for the region.

"It is obvious that a fundamental change in the framework of our operations in Southeast Asia is taking place," Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand declared in a speech here announcing the movement to the parliament.

Prime Minister John Gorton of Australia, who described the plan to the parliament in Canberra, said his government favored augmenting military measures with efforts to promote "a nonaggression pact or pacts" among Southeast Asian countries to advance regional stability.

In the background of the announcements was the reliance of both countries upon the protection guaranteed by the United States through the Anzus treaty.

Gorton declared that Canberra would seek the support of "outside powers" if a situation arose in which Malaysia and Singapore needed help beyond Australia's resources.

Also implicit in the new posture was the confidence here and in Canberra, encouraged by London, that Britain would retain a military obligation to Malaysia and Singapore even after the departure of British forces from the scene.

Time Limits Set In Davis Case

By CRAIG CALLAWAY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Grand Island—Judge Donald Weaver took steps Tuesday to speed up jury selection as the Thomas F Davis first degree murder trial continued through its second day in Hall County District Court here.

First, he insisted that the defense, headed by attorney John Mitchell of Omaha, limit its questioning of the jury panel members to not more than 30 minutes. At one time he told Mitchell that his time was up as Mitchell questioned one juror prospect but he did let Mitchell ask one final question.

Nebraska News

The prosecution, headed by R. M. Van Steenberg, has been using only five to 10 minutes of the 15 minutes per juror the judge allowed him.

At the end of questioning Tuesday 12 prospective jurors had been passed for cause.

Both sides during Tuesday's questioning referred to thoughts that the trial, once it begins, will probably last several weeks. The list of prospective state's witnesses runs 25 to 30 names and there is no way of knowing at this time how many witnesses the defense might call.

During questioning Tuesday Van Steenberg continued to stress to each prospective juror the likelihood that the state's case will rest largely on circumstantial evidence. He, in fact, told them that as far as he knew the state would not produce any eyewitness to the alleged slaying. Davis is accused of murdering his wife last Aug. 14.

The defense — while like the prosecution in stressing to each prospective juror the need for complete fairness and impartiality —also continued to make allusions to Davis' morality.

Mitchell referred to Davis' sex life, the sex life of Mrs. Davis and that of other persons as yet unidentified but stressed to each juror that any problems of morality had nothing to do with the alleged slaying, which he said is the reason for the trial.

By lunch time Tuesday nine of the first 12 jury panel members sequestered had been examined — and eight of them passed for cause — leaving three of the first group. Following lunch, when the next group of 12 reported to the courtroom, the judge, after conferring with counsel, put all 15 panel members in the jury box at once. Counsel then spent half an hour asking all 15 persons general questions.

Next, the 15 were returned to the jury room and were called out one at a time for more specific questioning. The change in questioning procedure was designed as another way to speed things along.

Courtroom Near Empty

The courtroom was mostly empty throughout Tuesday, as only five or six reporters and perhaps five or six persons from the general public sat in on the questioning. The matter is open to the public, but had not been for the first few hours of procedure Monday, when the entire current court session panel of 80 odd members filled the room.

During the first two days of questioning, the total of six panel members were excused. Three were let go because of employment reasons.

Two were excused after being challenged for cause — one by the defense and one by the prosecution. The sixth person, a woman, was excused after conferring in private with Judge Weaver.

The prosecution challenged the one man when he said that he would have trouble with his conscience bringing a conviction on circumstantial evidence only. The defense challenged the other man because he was a city of Grand Island employee and it was revealed that he had dealings on the job with law enforcement officers.

Judge Weaver said as the courtroom closed late Tuesday afternoon that he would probably give counsel its opportunity for peremptory charges after a total of 18 panel members had been passed for cause. That left six to go as of Tuesday afternoon and the judge hoped they might be picked by 3 p.m. or thereabouts Wednesday.

There was one slight bit of humor interjected in Tuesday's proceedings. It came after the judge had told Mitchell his time was getting short on one jury member's questioning. He speeded up his delivery so fast that the court reporter had to tell his "not too fast." Mitchell referred to his honor and asked, "Did the court hear that?"

Ex-Lincolnite Richard Root Slaying Victim

Denver (AP) — Police said a 29-year-old ironworker, Donald E. Carroll, was arrested for investigation in the shooting death of another Denver man, Richard M. Root, 42, late Monday night.

Root's body was found at the rear of a Denver tavern. Police said he appeared to have been robbed.

Root was formerly of Lincoln, Neb.

Youths Face Kidnap Count

Marion, Ohio (AP) — Two Marion youths have surrendered voluntarily and have been released under $1,000 bonds each on kidnaping charges filed by Beatrice, Neb., authorities.

The two are Donald B. Hoover 20, and Michael J. Harper, 20, accused of forcibly abducting 19-year-old Cathy McConnell from her apartment in Beatrice over the weekend.

However, Cathy turned up unharmed at her parents' home in Marion Monday.

The charges against Hoover and Harper Monday followed a search for the two throughout the midwest when Chief Hesser announced that warrants for their arrests had been issued.

Miss McConnell answered the telephone at her parents' home here when an Associated Press newsman telephoned the home, but she declined any comment.

Summary Of Conditions

The latest surface map shows a complex series of low in the central Rockies and Colorado with the main low expected to be over southeastern Colorado or the Oklahoma panhandle by Wednesday noon.

Cloudiness will persist throughout most of Nebraska and Iowa through Thursday with no large temperature changes but a trend toward cooler temperatures in western Nebraska Wednesday night or Thursday. By later Wednesday afternoon or evening there will be the chance of some occasional light rain or drizzle through portions of western Iowa and east and central Nebraska and continuing in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa into Thursday. Some very light drizzle is expected in the same areas Wednesday forenoon along with morning fog.

Tours, Talks Are Scheduled During Livestock Conference

House

Bray

Profits in the livestock industry will be the subject of a talk to be presented by Bill House, Cedar Vale, Kan., president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, at the 21st annual National Livestock Conference set for Friday, March 7, on the University of Nebraska campus here.

House, a commercial and purebred Hereford breeder and cattle feeder, is expected to have some comments and advice regarding the current profit picture and outlook in the livestock industry, according to Elmer Harder of Omaha, conference chairman, and Dr. Frank Baker, chairman of the NU Animal Science Department.

Also on the program is Dr. Robert Bray, chairman of the Meat and Animal Science Department at the University of Wisconsin and director of the State Experiment Station.

A busy schedule is planned for the day-long event, which will begin with a tour of the new $1.7 million Marvel Baker Hall, an animal science office, laboratory and classroom complex on the school's East Campus.

Tours will be conducted from 8:30 to 10 a.m. and again in the afternoon from 2 to 4:30. Buses will shuttle visitors from the animal science area to the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education where the speaking program will be held.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann will open the program with welcoming remarks. Also scheduled are brief talks by J. D. Anderson, and Harold Salisbury, presidents of the Omaha and Lincoln Chambers of Commerce respectively; Richard Adkins, president of the NU Board of Regents, and Melvin Kuska, Fairmont, president of the Nebraska Livestock Feeders Association.

Following the addresses by House and Bray, a short recognition ceremony will be held at Baker Hall for Dr. Marvel Baker, professor emeritus of animal science at NU, for whom the new hall is named. Dr. Joseph Soshnik, NU president, and Dr. E. F. Frolik, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, will pay tribute to the NU scientist.

With the University celebrating its centennial this year, Dr. Merk Hobson, acting chancellor of NU, will present a projected look ahead at the next 100 years during the luncheon.

Barneston School Post Given Neely

Barneston — Robert Neely has been hired as the new superintendent of the Barneston schools to replace Russell Norman who announced his resignation several weeks ago.

Neely is now serving as principal and guidance counselor for the school.

Neely is a University of Nebraska graduate and worked on the Lincoln Police Department and as juvenile probation officer for the Lancaster County juvenile court.

'Nation Needs To Know Dairy Products Facts'

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Omaha — The first annual meeting of the Dairy Council of Central States, Inc., was held here Tuesday evening with Ralph C. Charbeneau of Chicago, president of the National Dairy Council, calling for a prompt searching inquiry as to what "really causes heart attacks."

Charbeneau said public health is being jeopardized by "continuing unsubstantiated claims that polyunsaturated fats can help prevent heart attacks."

Charbeneau vigorously opposes any attempts that would make the public believe that substitute milk products are nutritionally equal or superior to real milk.

He said the nation needs a widely expanded nutrition research and education program to obtain and communicate more scientific information about dairy products and their competitors.

The following directors were elected at the business meeting: Ed Burchard, Omaha; Gene Jacobson, Lincoln; Lowell Morris, Omaha; L. K. Muller, Omaha; Otto Vollmer, Omaha; Robert Whitmore, Lincoln; Lea Fairley, Fairbury; Eugene Flynn, Blair; Paul Grabouski, Beatrice; W. J. Grant, Omaha; Robert Koehler, Fremont; and Elmer Starkel, Norfolk.

Nebraska Cleanup Awards Top Nation

Washington (AP) — Sixty-four Nebraska municipalities received awards here Tuesday for self-improvements in the national cleanup contest as a delighted Gov. Norbert Tiemann watched.

"It's an entirely happy occasion for Nebraska," the governor remarked to newsmen.

Nebraska got over three times as many awards as any other state. The winners were announced at the National Congress on Beautification.

Tiemann was the featured speaker at an awards luncheon.

Among Nebraskans present to accept the awards on behalf of their cities were the mayors of Beatrice, Cambridge, Humboldt and Battle Creek.

'Run On Enthusiasm'

"This whole program is run on sheer enthusiasm and no money," Tiemann said, referring to the Nebraska program. "And that's the key to the whole thing."

Mrs. Les Anderson of Omaha, chairman of the Governor's Council to Keep Nebraska Beautiful, said she was extremely proud of Nebraska's showing.

Distinguished achievement awards went to these Nebraska cities:

Auburn, Battle Creek, Beatrice, Beaver Crossing, Cambridge, Coleridge, Cozad, Dodge, Gresham, Humboldt, Milford, North Platte, Pilger, Omaha, Ralston, Rushville, Seward, Snyder, South Sioux City, Stromsburg, Stuart, Sutherland, Tecumseh, Wisner and York.

Lincoln Man Dies In Crash

. . . Passenger Hurt

A Lincoln man was killed and another injured early Tuesday in a one-car accident just east of Lincoln.

George E. McLaird, 41, 220 Sycamore Dr., was fatally injured when the car he was driving left the road near the Walton corner and plunged into a creek, said a State Patrol official.

His passenger, Merlyn Sailors, 28, 221 Sycamore, suffered multiple fractures in the mishap and is listed in "serious" condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

The State Patrol said the car was eastbound on U.S. 34 when the accident occurred.

McLaird, a disabled war veteran, is survived by his wife, Marilyn, his father George, and a brother.

Damage In Crete Derailment Now Estimated At $214,500

The State Railway Commission Tuesday said a recent train derailment in Crete caused an estimated $214,500 worth of damage.

Eight were killed in the mishap, more than a score injured and hundreds forced from their homes when an ammonia tank car involved in the derailment burst and spread anhydrous ammonia across sections of Crete.

Meanwhile, three of the victims of the tragedy, transients aboard the Burlington Railroad freight, were identified in a United Press International dispatch as Kenneth Richard Smith, Alvie Smith and Bill G. Walker, whose home addresses were not immediately known.

Commission secretary M. B. McManaman said the cause of the derailment was still not determined. Burlington officials had said after the accident that the northbound freight had apparently struck three ammonia cars parked on a siding.

The commission noted that in the last 10 years there have been four derailments within one and a half miles of each other in the Crete area.

6 Hospitalized Listed As 'Good'

Crete (UPI) — Six of the 19 persons hospitalized here after the rupture of a railroad tank car containing anhydrous ammonia remain in the hospital, but all are in good condition, according to Saline County Sheriff John Svehla.

He said there still is a smell of ammonia in the immediate area of a train derailment which triggered the tank car rupture.

The Burlington Railroad, on whose line the derailment occurred, continued maintaining a claims office here, set up to aid victims of the tragedy.

10 PLUG-IN SOLID-STATE MINI-CIRCUITS

Quasar Color TV may cost a little more than some other color sets. But it gives you more in lasting value. Here's why:

It has the "works in a drawer." Ten tubeless solid-state mini-circuits give you long-lasting dependability.

In Quasar TV everything but the picture tube and the rectifier is solid-state.

Unlike tubes, the solid-state components are designed to work without burning themselves out.

If mini-circuit service is ever needed, they plug-in in minutes. Right in your home. That's why a Quasar set stays at home working, not in the repair shop.

Quasar TV is so dependable we give you this two year registered guarantee on picture tube and on all other components.

Motorola's original owner registered guarantee must be registered within ten days after delivery by mailing the guarantee registration card. Otherwise it is void. This guarantee covers free exchange or repair of components proved defective in normal use. Arranged through selling dealer. Labor and transportation extra.

So if you're looking for a Color set that gives you the most value for your money, look at Quasar TV. It comes with a drawer full of value.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

For a contrast with current times that will soon be obvious, let us quote from Neale Copple's "Tower On The Plains." In his centennial book he says: "The history of Lincoln's city government is basically, like the city it serves, highly conservative. Yet, periodically, experiments pop up that are just as highly liberal.

"For example, in 1915 the city set up and operated both a free legal aid department and a municipal employment bureau. Two other ventures caused even more stir. In 1922 a municipal coal yard was set up, and in 1924 came the municipal gasoline station.

"The gas station, at least partly designed to govern the price of gasoline, brought immediate complaints that the city was going into private business. The U.S. Supreme Court ruled in 1927 that the operation was legal."

★

Copple continued: "All four of these ventures were fostered by Charles W. Bryan, during his various terms as mayor or council member. He also wanted the city to have a municipal ice plant and a municipal market."

Now, we have come full cycle, so to speak. At the urging of former Councilman John Mason, the city is no longer in the municipal gasoline business, except to service itself.

Prior to that, the city gave up its municipal coal operation and still earlier it surrendered its legal aid bureau and its employment bureau. Now, it has pending before it a proposition aimed at the elimination of price-cutting on gasoline.

We have gone from protection of the consumer to neutrality and now are on the verge of protection for the distributor. Councilman Bill Davidson is the author of the anti-price-war legislation, which doesn't exactly mark him as consumer-oriented.

★

As we contemplate Davidson's little post-Christmas gift to the petroleum interests, no precedent for such an action comes to mind, with the possible exception of federal regulation of artificially high railroad freight rates.

We are not opposed to the service station operators and we can understand their predicament in the case of gas wars. We can appreciate the fact that they don't make any profit selling premium fuel at 30 cents a gallon.

But for the City Council to take it upon itself to outlaw the visible display of gasoline prices and thereby greatly reduce the effectiveness of a gasoline war is an exercise in special interest that can hardly be condoned.

If the theory is sound, it would be no time at all before someone went the rest of the way and proposed to outlaw cut-rate prices of gasoline as well as their display. And what's good for gasoline ought to be good for a lot of other things such as groceries, men's clothing, drugs, etc.

★

But while we are at such things as that, who is going to look out for the consumer? Who is going to protect him against prices that are too high? Who is going to say when the price of gasoline allows too large a profit, the price of a grease job is exorbitant, the mark-up on tires is out of reason or a front-end alignment is highway robbery?

What about the price of batteries, of headlight replacements, of new spark plugs, of a carburetor adjustment, of new shock absorbers or another tail pipe or muffler? Let's not kid ourselves, the consumer pays a hefty profit on most of these items and nobody could care less that he does so.

It costs you from $1.50 to $2 just to get a flat fixed that you drop off at the service station door. We aren't objecting to any of these costs but they sure aren't bargain basement prices for the consumer.

The proposal by Davidson is wrong both specifically and in the principle involved.

Fishing Boat Seizure A Small-Time Racket

WASHINGTON — Fishing tycoon Edmund Gann has angrily threatened to arm his fishing vessels and deduct the cost from his taxes unless the U.S. government protects the tuna fleet from South American gunboats.

He communicated the warning directly to the White House last week after the skipper of the shrapnel-scarred San Juan, John Virissimo, escaped to sea under another hail of bullets.

A U.S. attache in Ecuador arranged for the San Juan to pull into the small Ecuadorian port of Salinas for a damage assessment, following its encounter with the Peruvian patrol boat. After Virissimo arrived ashore with the San Juan's papers, the attache left him alone with the Ecuadorian authorities.

They inspected the ship's log and discovered that the San Juan last year had fished in waters which Ecuador claims but which the U.S. doesn't recognize. The authorities ordered a $20,000 fine on the spot. Rather than pay it, Virissimo grabbed the papers, leaped into a launch and roared off for the San Juan under fire from shore.

From San Diego, owner Gann immediately got in touch with National Security adviser Henry Kissinger's office in the White House and demanded protection for his tuna boats.

If his boats aren't protected, Gann said, he would either arm his crew or hire armed protection from private sources.

The inside fact is that the U.S. government encourages the fishing fleets not to purchase licenses from Ecuador, Peru and Chile to fish in waters beyond the 12-mile limit. All three countries claim territorial rights 200 miles out to sea. If American fishing vessels took out licenses, it might be considered de facto recognition of the 200-mile claim.

Therefore, the government compensates the fishing boat owners for fines that are levied against seized boats. It cost the taxpayers close to $250,000, for example, to bail out four tuna boats hauled into port to Ecuador last August. With this kind of money available, the seizure of U.S. fishing vessels is becoming an extortion racket practiced by small South American countries.

In a private showdown with his former chief, Hubert Humphrey has made it clear that he isn't going to let Lyndon Johnson run the Democratic party from the LBJ ranch.

First off, Johnson wanted to get rid of Larry O'Brien as party chairman. When O'Brien resigned from the cabinet to campaign for Robert Kennedy, Johnson considered it the ultimate act of disloyalty and concluded that O'Brien had been secretly conspiring with the Kennedys all along.

Humphrey, however, decided to keep O'Brien, who had intended to remain in the chairmanship but got such an attractive offer the last minute that he couldn't turn it down. He left politics to become president of McDonald & Company, a financial consulting firm in New York.

LBJ favored Terry Sanford, the former North Carolina governor, as O'Brien's successor. But Humphrey selected Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris, a close friend of the Kennedys, whom LBJ distrusts.

Sore as blazes, Johnson chewed out Humphrey for appointing Harris.

Hardin At Heart Of Matter

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has chalked up a mark on the favorable side in one of his first actions as a member of the new Nixon administration. Hardin has ordered the distribution of free food stamps to needy families in two poverty-ridden South Carolina counties.

Both counties are areas that have been pointed out in hearings, studies and newspaper reports as containing numbers of undernourished if not starving families. They are counties in a state whose own senator has admitted that existing personal hardships have been swept under the rug and hidden from view in the past.

If Hardin had gone through the regular channels of welfare offices in the area involved, the people who need the food they will now get would probably never have gotten anything. That is a part of the problem we now have — the red tape and regulations that deny help to people in real need.

Hardin has recognized a very simple fact, that hungry people should be fed. But while it is a simple fact, it is not one which has been given the attention it deserves. Rather, we continue to spend a lot of time trying to find out what the problem is.

Recent reports from parts of the South have turned up families with children, families who are living on less than $100 a month, living without sufficient food and without the resources to purchase even the inexpensive food stamps. The secretary of agriculture will experience problems in his direct approach to these people but he is to be commended for his humanitarianism and the precedent he has set for a curtailment of bureaucracy.

Sterilization Law Needs Repeal

The U.S. Supreme Court has granted a hearing to a Nebraska woman who is challenging the state's authority to have her sterilized against her will and at the same time the Nebraska Legislature is considering a bill that would repeal this state's 40-year-old law that permits forcible sterilization in the case of persons judged to be mentally incompetent.

Aside from the high court's interest and without speculating about the results of its review, our Legislature would do well to repeal the forced sterilization law. It is a ghastly law, based on chance; the assumption that mental deficiency is always a hereditary problem.

Under the state law a woman can be sterilized against her will if she is mentally deficient and if she seems capable of bearing children. There need be no showing that the children would inherit the illness.

But according to experts, medical knowledge has now advanced to the point that it is known that genetics is only a minor cause—less than 12 per cent, according to a Nebraska expert—of mental retardation. In the case at point, the woman who cannot be freed from a mental institution until she has been sterilized claims there is no evidence that any of her eight children are mentally deficient. The state takes a lot in its hands when it would take away the child-bearing ability of a woman on the basis of mere chance. There is no good interest in this law.

Nixon May Not Achieve Even Minimum Goal As Strain In French-British Relations Evident

LONDON — Richard M. Nixon had scarcely set foot on continental soil when he was assured by King Baudouin that he had landed in "a Europe which, despite the differences accumulated by history, is advancing on the road to unity."

Nixon then proceeded to London where he was immediately told by Prime Minister Wilson that the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia had shown Europe the need for "a unity in political as in economic terms which will reject narrow, inward-looking attitudes."

In fact, the President and his jet fleet had dropped down through gloomy British skies to a London whose politicians were talking of little but the latest — and fieriest — dispute with General de Gaulle; and just across the channel lay a continent that, in any number of "narrow, inward-looking" ways mocked Baudouin's brave words.

The angry dispute between Paris and London over what De Gaulle did, or did not, say to Christopher Soames, the British ambassador to France, and over whether the British did, or did not, overact has at least restored this useful if grim perspective. Whatever Nixon might have done to produce a new atmosphere of European unity not only will not now be done; but it can be more clearly seen that it would have been illusory, anyway.

☆ ☆ ☆

How large Nixon's private hopes might have been is hard to tell. Before entering the American-Soviet arms talks made virtually obligatory by the non-proliferation treaty, it was obviously useful at least to observe all the forms of consultation with the European allies. It was just as useful to soothe European sensibilities that had been scarred by Lyndon Johnson's focus on Asia.

Beyond these forms, it was believed in the White House that the Johnson and Kennedy administrations had not done all they might have to keep the peace with General de Gaulle; and since the general had been at pains to make clear that he thought well of Nixon, there was some real hope in Washington for building a much stronger relationship with the French president.

That hope may still flicker, since Nixon can try to take the line in Paris this weekend that the Soames affair is a European matter into which he does not wish to intrude. This will require an extremely straight face, De Gaulle having suggested — at least in the British version — that the Common Market ought to evolve into a loose free-trade association, with an "inner political ring" of France, Britain, West Germany and Italy — and that NATO and the United States should thus disappear from Europe.

But more is in question than the substance of this proposal — which, interestingly enough, obviously aroused considerable interest in the House of Commons, when Michael Stewart, the foreign secretary, answered questions today on the British part in the affair. De Gaulle's motive in offering such a scheme on the eve of Nixon's tour, whether there is any connection between the two, the failure of the British to consult Nixon either on the issues raised or on how they proposed to respond — all these are questions bound to haunt the President and his hosts in every country they visit.

The smoldering animosities of French-British relations have seldom been so clearly disclosed as in this affair, more bad blood has been stirred between Paris and Bonn and the smaller nations of the Common Market have been newly offended by De Gaulle. This comes on the heels of the French refusal to send a delegate to last week's meeting of the Western European Union — an act that ultimately left some strain between London and Bonn.

So whatever — if anything — Nixon may secretly have hoped for in coming to Europe so early in his administration, he will be hard put now to get even the minimum goal

Unworkable

Lincoln, Neb.

The President's suggestion to reform the electoral college will simply not work. It disenfranchises the nine million who voted for Governor Wallace. Under such a set-up, a third party would have no reason for existence. No matter how hard its members worked, they could not hope for later bargaining rights.

U.S. Leadership

Lake Junaluska, N.C.

The likelihood that the Senate will approve a non-proliferation treaty and the talk of a professional army to replace the draft leads to the conclusion that the United States does not intend to intervene in the cause of freedom around the world much longer.

Israel must now defend itself with any means she can muster. South Vietnam may possibly have to bear the burden alone of a war that together with us has not produced a military victory. Australia stands in doubt as to what we may do.

I am afraid many nations who have dpended upon our leadership may be sorely disappointed if they do not initiate a great deal of action on their own. In my opinion these countries — Australia, New Zealand, Free China, Spain, Portugal, Israel, South Africa, Brazil, Greece and others — should consider pooling their financial resources and talent to produce the necessary nuclear weapons and delivery systems they may need. By their combined efforts, they may help fill the gap left by our retreat from nuclear superiority to sufficiency. Although it is not probable, they might persuade us to re-evaluate our role in world affairs.

Bills 806, 849

Beatrice, Neb.

We are retired from the farm, and still enjoy hunting on occasion.

What we cannot understand is why any true sportsman would want to use the graceful, slow-moving dove for target practice, for that is all it amounts to. Few people will bother to pick up a dove after it is hit by a blast from a shotgun.

Also, there is a bill before the Legislature to permit hunting and shooting from country roads. With the carloads of city hunters cruising the highways and byways of the state, shooting at everything in sight, if this bill were passed, all hell would break loose in the countryside and no one would be safe, any more.

Both LB 806 permitting the shooting of doves, and LB 849 are vicious by implication and should be promptly voted down by the Legislature.

Those who agree with this letter should cut it out and send it on to their senators in the Legislature, together with their further comments.

The Cheapskates

Omaha, Neb.

To discover who the real cheapskates are in your immediate neighborhood, simply volunteer to collect door-to-door for a worthy charity such as the heart fund. The suprising and even ludicrous result is that these people are found with greater regularity in the so-called "better" neighborhoods. It is reasonable to deduce from their resistance to contribute that they are neither financially nor socially able to afford their posh surroundings.

Typical reactions to the request for a contribution:

(1) "My husband gives through his paycheck." (This solicitor knows of no office where paycheck deductions are made specifically for the heart fund.)

(2) Voice from inside to the child who opened he door: "Tell them we gave already." (An obvious deception inasmuch as the neighborhood had not been previously canvassed.)

(3) Refusal to open the door at all was another of the well planned strategies.

It is hoped that people like those described above will never need services in the area of heart illness nor that any member of their families is similarly afflicted for, we believe, their conscience may conceivably rebel at their present actions.

In the meantime, want to discover your cheap neighbors? Go out to solicit for a charity.

The Complexity Of Apollo 9 Flight

NEW YORK—The longest day in the lives of Astronauts Jim McDivitt, David Scott and Russ Schweickart will be March 4, the fifth day of their 10-day earth orbit in Apollo 9.

Their day will begin at 2 a.m. and end, hopefully, at 7 p.m. During those 17 hours, experiments will be conducted to determine whether or not we land men on the moon by the end of this year. There is a possibility that two of the three men will be marooned in space and perish there. There is another possibility of a collision that could damage the separated parts of the Apollo.

In vast oversimplification, the men in the Command Module of Apollo 9 must break loose the Lunar Module that accompanies them into orbit 115 miles above the earth, turn around and balance the LM on its nose, secure it, regulate its pressurization so that it equals that of the Command Module, open the hatches so that McDivitt and Schweickart can crawl into the LM, and close the hatches of both vehicles.

At 7:02 a.m. they will get their "go" or "no go" signal from the earth station at Houston. If it's "go," the LM will be broken loose from its odd perch on the nose of the Command Module and the broken parts will go their separate ways. By 9:50 a.m. they will be separated by 109 miles of airy nothingness. (At one point they will pass each other in pitch darkness with hardly three miles clearance—at 17,500 miles an hour.)

The schedule calls for the two vehicles to nuzzle up to their previous position and connection at 2:05 p.m. They'll ride in that posture for an hour. Then McDivitt will climb through the hatch alley and rejoin Scott.

☆ ☆ ☆

Schweickart will return to the fold by a hairier method, a secondary escape method which would be used to retrieve the LM crew if anything went wrong with the regular hatches.

Schweickart will float out of an auxiliary hatch on the side of the LM, with an oxygen pack on his back and a tether to keep him from drifting away. He will hold on to a railing with one hand and possibly use the other to hold a small Westinghouse television camera.

At 4:25 the LM will be shot off the nose of the Command Module. What is left of the propulsion power of the LM will be turned on and it will go off somewhere in space; its course will be followed by the Command Module and by the ground. It will remain in orbit for about a month, then plunge back and destroy itself when it hits our atmosphere.

There won't be nearly as much television from Apollo 9 as from Apollo 8, for the simple reason that this next one — which takes off from Cape Kennedy on Feb. 28 — will be in earth orbit. Consequently, it will regularly be out of contact with earth stations. Apollo 8 had a direct beam to the earth for more than two days while going to and coming from the moon.

One of the touchier aspects of the Apollo 9 mission is the matter of the two vehicles touching. Their total weight will be about 250,000 pounds. They must be brought together at a speed of no more than one quarter of a foot per second, or else they could crumple. Try that sometime with a couple of freight engines!

Apollo 10 — with Astronauts Thomas Stafford, John Young and Eugene Cernan — will go to the suburbs of the moon. If Apollo 9's mission shows that the LM works, two of the Apollo 10 astronauts will enter an LM and descend to within 10 miles of the lunar surface, then sky-rocket back to the mother ship. Apollo 11 — with Astronauts Neil Armstrong, Michael Collins, and Edwin Aldrin — will be the first to achieve a landing, probably in August.

Neither of the two men who eventually reach the moon will venture more than 300 feet from their LM. The next team that goes will prospect about twice as far from their one and only hope of ever getting home. As of now, only three moon landings are planned. Each is expected to be ended in 24 hours or less.

Oh, yes, somebody has come up with icky code names for the Command Module and the incredible LM. You'll soon be hearing a lot about those names. The LM is called Spider. The Command Module — are you ready, Gridley? — will be called Gumdrop.

Vision-17 To Support Expanding Industries

A special program to encourage industries which have a good growth potential will be mounted in southeast Nebraska this year.

Hugh Wilkins of Geneva, president of Vision-17, told Rotary Club members Tuesday that the key point in the 17-county economic development organization's program is recognizing that most industrial growth comes from expansion of existing industries.

"Therefore, existing factories, both large and small, should be carefully surveyed with respect to their growth potential," he said.

"A main point of our program will be to serve as a pipeline to bring competent technical assistance to those where good growth potential is indicated," he added.

Wilkins said that many of the towns in the Vision-17 area are too small to mount effective industrial development efforts and that the area development program is one way for them to unite their strength in economic development.

He noted that all of the counties in the area except Lancaster had experienced a decline in population. In 1890, the combined population of the 17 counties was 358,000, he said, while in 1960 it saw 355,000.

Wilkins further stated that the parents and taxpayers of Nebraska can afford to educate their children in great numbers, but it "appears to be a sad fact that the same people are so poor that they cannot afford to employ these expensively educated young adults."

Vision-17, which was started in November, 1967, serves the area from the Platte River to the Kansas line, and from the east line of Hamilton County to the Missouri River.

Health Director's Job Education, Salary Discussed

Advocating that specific criteria be established for hiring a state health director and that a salary commensurate with the position be offered, a group of concerned members of the Nebraska Public Health Association met informally Tuesday with members of the State Board of Health.

The sanitation officers and public health experts suggested that the director of public health should meet the same qualifications as his staff, many of whom have master's degrees in public health, according to Orville DeFrain, of the Lancaster County Health Department.

At the present time any medical doctor can be hired for the position, but public health is a specialty requiring advanced education just like surgery or pediatrics, DeFrain said.

Work To Close One Lane West On Cornhusker

Traffic westbound on Cornhusker Highway Wednesday will be limited to one lane from 35th to 56th Sts., according to Robert Holsinger, city traffic engineer.

Holsinger said one lane will be blocked while crews work on installing a water main.

The traffic engineer also said that 56th St. from Calvert to Van Dorn will be closed during part of the day while potholes are being repaired.

Blasts Set Stage For Reprisals

Jerusalem (AP) — Explosions rocked a market in the Israeli city of Lydda and the British consulate in East Jerusalem Tuesday, probably setting the stage for more reprisals against Arab nations.

Before the bombs went off, Egypt had announced a state of emergency throughout the country in expectation that Israel would strike in answer to previous Arab terrorist attacks.

A bomb shook the marketplace in Lydda, 10 miles southeast of Tel Aviv, and officials said an Arab was wounded. Three Arabs were held for questioning.

Four Days After

The blast came four days after a Jerusalem supermarket was wrecked by a bomb that killed two young Israelis. Powerful Israeli air raids on Arab guerrilla camps in Syria followed.

In East Jerusalem, police said an explosive charge was placed on the window sill of a ground floor at the consulate.

The explosion ripped out three doors of a storeroom but heavy window shutters apparently shielded a lounge where Joan Bennet, a secretary, was drying her hair. She escaped injury.

"I pull the shutters every evening," Miss Bennet told reporters.

'Garbled Reports' Cited

British Consul John Lewen said the only reason he could think of for the attack was "garbled reports of British arms to Israel." He said he knew nothing of an impending agreement.

There have been reports in the Arab press that Britain will sell Israel Centurion tanks. The Centurion greatly contributed to Israel's swift victory in the 1967 war.

Returning from a 10-day tour of Arab capitals, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad said in Cairo Israel's raid on Syrian guerrilla camps did not achieve its objectives. The Israelis claimed that the raid inflicted heavy damage.

Palestinians Backed

"We will continue to support Palestinian commando resistance movements because we believe their activities are essential toward the liberation of our lands," Riad said. "The Israeli raid was expected. We expect aggression any time, any day."

Shortly before he spoke, two Israeli warplanes skimmed low across the Jordan River and attacked a guerrilla camp inside Jordan.

The Israelis said the guerrillas fired on an army patrol. No Israeli casualties were reported.

Students Asked To Discuss Curriculum

. . . SCHOOL BOARD TO OFFER YOUTH A FORUM

Students will be invited to visit informally with Lincoln Board of Education members about the educational program at a meeting March 18, it was agreed here Tuesday.

The session was suggested by Supt. John Prasch as a part of the curriculum review which the school board has been making during the past several months.

Reports and recommendations for improvement have been made by the district's consultants for all major curriculum areas as a basis for preparing the 1969-70 school budget.

Leaders Sought

Prasch recommended that invited students include some student council leaders, newspaper editors and representatives of a city-wide student organization, Keep The Faith (KTF). KTF members previously requested an audience with the board, Prasch noted.

Such a meeting, the superintendent said, not only would provide board members an opportunity to hear student ideas about curriculum and the educational program, but it would provide students "a channel to speak directly with the establishment."

Board members, it was indicated, need to be alerted to student ideas and movements and to communicate effectively with the school community.

Bill Discussed

Board members argued at length Tuesday about their position on provisions of a legislative bill (LB372) that would extend tenure to teachers in Class III schools.

Several members said they were opposed to mandatory provisions requiring a board to furnish written reasons for terminating a teachers' contract and to grant a hearing to the teacher if requested.

No action was taken supporting or opposing the bill. The superintendent recommended that the board not oppose the bill because it does not apply to Lincoln.

"You are in an untenable position when you oppose legislation that attempts to give due process when the board would grant such due process with or without the law," Prasch declared.

Already In Effect

The provisions of the bill, including the requirements to furnish written reasons for terminating a contract and to grant a hearing, already are in effect for Lincoln under state statutes.

In other business Tuesday, Prasch reported that Northeast High School should be able to move into the new cafeteria addition by April 1 if the furniture arrives by that time.

Remodeling of the old cafeteria into a library is expected to be completed by next fall, he said.

Changes Made

Numerous changes have been made in Goodrich Junior High, now under construction, to conform with the state fire marshal's interpretation of the fire safety code. The latest request to change the grill work in the classroom doors conflicts with the principle of the building, the superintendent contended.

"The problem is that we can't get a definite answer on any point until after the construction is finished," he said.

Associate Supt. Robert Den Hartog reported that Lancaster County had been billed $51,476 for 173 pupils and Seward County $674 for two pupils for free high school tuition during the first semester.

Proposal To Draw Private Capital Into Rural Electrification Presented

By DAVE ZIMMERMAN
Star Staff Writer

A recommendation for a plan to bring private capital into rural electrification programs was presented Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association.

Leland Kitt, a member of a National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA) study committee, told the delegates that the committee, composed of representatives from throughout the U. S. is recommending that a financial institution to provide self-help for rural electric associations be established.

The institution would supplement the REA loan program, which is currently the sole source of funds, Kitt said, and enable electric associations to avoid further backlogging of unmet loan requests.

$300 Million Unfilled

An earlier speaker, Robert Partridge of Washington, D.C., general manager of NRECA, had told 350 delegates at a Cornhusker Hotel luncheon that facts showed that $345 million would be loaned through the two per cent REA program this year, and that unfilled loan requests would total $300 million.

"We simply cannot afford to wait in building our own financial program," he said, and noted that he felt there was little chance of an increase in REA loan revenues in future years.

Explaining the projected organization of the institution — which will be established only if approved at a NRECA convention in Atlantic City next month — Kitt said initial funds would come from local associations.

Each would pay a $1,000 membership fee, he explained, and further resources would be requested based upon about one-half of one per cent of utility plants and service revenues for the first three years, and a percentage of operating revenues for the next 12 years.

$150 Million Start

Kitt said projections indicate that the institution, which would be named the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Association, could raise revenues of $150 million and, if this sum were raised, outside money could be attracted on a three-to-one basis and perhaps later a five-to-one.

Money would not be requested from local associations until about 75% of the initial fund was committed by local agencies, he said.

Loans would be available by 1971 and would be made to members only for a maximum 35-year term, he said.

Review General

Also, Kitt told the delegates that REA had agreed to continue reviewing all loan applications and decide whether they could provide all or part of the amount and then turn it over to the financial self-help institution.

The institution would be managed by two officers chosen from each of the 10 NRECA districts and five from the District of Columbia.

Another subject confronting NREA delegates Tuesday was a report on reorganization of wholesale power agencies by D. A. Blatchford of Columbus, general manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative.

Wednesday's final sessions will see the election of officers and a luncheon speech by Gerald Diddle of Washington, D.C., western area director of REA, on "Loan Funds and Loan Fund Advances."

Wekesser Not Certain About Election Plans

Lincoln Board of Education member Robert Wekesser reported Tuesday that he has not yet decided whether to run for a second term on the board.

Wekesser's six-year term expires this year.

No one has filed for the two board seats up for election this year.

Board member Robert Magee earlier reported he had not made a final decision about seeking a second term, but at that time did not plan to run.

Blaze Spreads Death Through N.Y. Building

New York (AP) — Nine persons were killed Tuesday by a flash fire that roared through a Fifth Avenue office building, the Fire Department said. Seven other persons were hospitalized.

The fire was triggered by the ignition of two cans of draftsmen's adhesive in the third-floor office of architectural designer David Rosen. Rosen, 38, was not present at the time.

If the fire had struck "20 minutes later, everyone would have been gone," he told reporters after visiting the morgue where he said he identified "about four or five of the dead" as his employes.

Mayor John V. Lindsay rushed from City Hall to the fire, the city's worst since 12 firemen were killed in the collapse of an old building as 23rd Street and Broadway on Oct. 18, 1966.

"Oh, my God; oh, my God," repeated Lindsay as fire officials explained to him how the victims had been trapped by a sudden burst of flame on the third floor of the five-story building at 48th Street.

Firemen Martin Cuniff and William Bessman, first to reach the blazing office, said they had to push open the door because it was blocked by bodies.

"I had to hit the deck because of the intense flame and heat," said Bessman.

During its 78th year, in 1968, Woodmen Accident and Life Company established new records in service to policyowners, benefits paid, income earned, insurance in force and admitted assets. Since its organization in 1890, the Company has paid more than $142,000,000 to policyowners and beneficiaries of its life and health insurance contracts.

Operating results in 1968 were very satisfactory because of improved investment yields, favorable underwriting experience and conservative expense ratios. New operating economies were achieved with the installation of a "third-generation" electronic computer. The System/360 permits Woodmen Accident and Life Company's representatives to provide a superior type of financial service to its insureds.

Ground was broken and construction started in June, 1968 for an addition to the Home Office Building located opposite the Nebraska State Capitol and adjacent to Lincoln's rapidly developing civic center and Centennial Mall. The new addition will provide space needed to house the Company's expanding activities.

The Company is proud of its continuing contribution to the economy of Lincoln. On December 30, 1968, the Lincoln Housing Authority, Woodmen Accident and Life Company, and four other Lincoln insurance companies announced plans for a 78-unit, $830,000 apartment facility for low income families. This is part of the life insurance industry program to invest funds in improved housing and job-producing business in urban areas. In 1968, the Company's home office payroll exceeded $1,820,000 and the Company purchased goods and services from Lincoln businesses amounting to $570,000. Federal, state and local taxes paid by the Company last year totaled $1,079,000. The Company's assets, exceeding $80,000,000, while held in trust for policyowners, are productively invested in a wide variety of securities and mortgages. These insurance funds have helped hundreds of families to acquire their own homes and have stimulated local industrial growth.

Woodmen Accident and Life Company, a Nebraska institution since its establishment in 1890, appreciates the support and patronage it has received from Nebraska people and pledges itself to their service.

Weather Skyrockets Road Maintenance Costs

By United Press International

A State Roads Department official said Tuesday the job of snow removal during Nebraska's rugged winter has caused maintenance costs to skyrocket.

State Maintenance Engineer Charles F. Nutter said the cost of snow removal this year has been "way above" past winters.

Nutter said the department maintains a $500,000 emergency fund to pay for snow removal costs in "out of the ordinary" situations. Almost all of this money has already been used up, he said.

So far, he said, the roads department has spent $484,000 in overtime costs alone. Of this, $134,000 was for overtime paid to maintenance employes and $350,000 was for "additional equipment overtime costs" on equipment used for snow removal only.

Nutter said the $484,000 spent so far does not include the costs of maintaining the highways during the latest big snowstorm. He said the cost during this period will not be computed for "several more weeks.

Besides overtime costs, Nutter said, the department has poured almost 14,000 tons of salt on ice and snow covered highways.

For employe overtime alone, the maintenance engineer said, the total cost this year is more than the previous two years combined. In the winter of 1967-68, the department spent $45,000 for employe overtime, and in 1966-67 it spent $58,000.

During years with milder winters, Nutter said, the department uses the surplus money from the emergency fund to help pay the cost of resurfacing roads broken up by the spring thaw.

However, he said, "It doesn't look like we'll have any left over this year."

Nutter said he didn't think the department would have to ask the Legislature for any more money to keep the roads open during bad weather "unless we have floods or something."

According to his division engineers, Nutter said, Nebraska's highways "aren't in much worse shape" than during years with milder winters.

"But we won't know for sure until after the first spring thaw," he said. "We'll just have to wait to see how serious the situation is. Right now it's impossible to tell."

Increased State Poverty Fund Control Urged

State Technical Assistance Director Samuel J. Cornelius said Tuesday that the state should have a greater voice in adapting federal poverty grants to local conditions.

Cornelius said this position was taken by the 11-member board of directors of State Economic Opportunity Officers meeting last week in Washington, D.C.

Cornelius, member-at-large on the board, said, "The governors of the states should have more say about adapting programs to local conditions."

"If the federal government wants to make a modification in a poverty grant application regardless of the state's plan, it does so on a take-it-or-leave it basis."

Presently, Cornelius said a governor has direct veto only over the Job Corps and VISTA programs.

He said the state, through the governor, should have a similar voice in the other federal programs, such as Neighborhood Youths Corps, on-the-job-training, and Operation Mainstream — a retraining program for older workers.

Cornelius said a $34,500 application for an out-of-school Neighborhood Youths Corps program at Kearney is now "hung up" because of federal insistance upon a clause whereby the Office of Economic Opportunity can designate a sponsor for the project other than the applicant.

The Mid-Nebraska Community Action Agency is the proposed sponsor of the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

During fiscal 1968, Nebraska received about $18.6 million in federal poverty funds.

Included were Job Corps training centers at Lincoln, $4.7 million; at Omaha, $5.6 million; at McCook and Chadron, $1.1 million; neighborhood youth corps, $1.5 million; VISTA, $132,000, and work experience programs, $900,000.

The Lincoln and Chadron centers have since been closed, Cornelius said. He estimated 1969 fiscal funds will be $8-9 million.

Reorganization In 8 School Districts OKd

The State School District Reorganization Committee said Tuesday it has approved eight petition plans to reorganize school districts.

The committee also said it gave "qualified approval" to a reorganization plan in Gage County which would dissolve rural school District No. 7 and attach it to District No. 166 in Filley.

Petition plans were approved to dissolve three Class I (elementary) districts in Gage County and attach them to Beatrice's Class III (kindergarten to 12th grade) district.

The three elementary districts are 44, 63 and 163.

Also dissolved was District 70 with the elementary district being apportioned to the Beatrice district and to District 30 at Adams.

Four reorganization proposals were disapproved. They are:

—Dissolve District No. 130 in Sheridan County and attach it to District No. 96.

—Dissolve District No. 51 in Saunders County and attach it to District No. 104 in Prague.

—Dissolve District No. 39 in Platte County and attach it to District No. 76 in Monroe.

Penterman Gets Post On National Research Panel

Brig. Gen. Donald G. Penterman of the Nebraska National Guard Tuesday was appointed to a National Academy of Sciences' committee.

Penterman, 51, is deputy adjutant general of the state's Army National Guard. His appointment is to the communications committee of the academy's Highway Research Board.

Academy officials said the committee researches the communications requirements of highway systems, coordinates national planning and encourages the development of highway communication systems.

Penterman, a native of Elmwood, began his military career with the Guard in 1940, and served in Europe during World War II.

Falls City Couple Seeking To Keep Land From Park

The State Supreme Court will hear oral arguments March 6 in the celebrated attempt by a Falls City couple to prevent the Nebraska Game Commission from taking part of their land for a state park.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Duerfeldt have asked the high court to rule unconstitutional enabling legislation which gave the commission authority to condemn some of the couple's land for Indian Cave State Park.

Sought is an order permanently restraining the commission from taking 46 acres of Duerfeldt land for the 3,000-acre park.

Lancaster District Court dismissed the Duerfeldts' petition for an injunction against the Game Commission.

The case is one of 23 appeals the Supreme Court will hear during the week beginning March 3.

Eggers Nominated

Washington (UPI) — Paul W. Eggers, a Wichita Falls lawyer who ran unsuccessfully last year for governor of Texas, will be nominated as general counsel of the Treasury, Secretary David M. Kennedy announced.

School Revenue Bonds Bill Reworded By Panel

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Education Committee Tuesday tightened up a proposed constitutional amendment that would authorize the University of Nebraska and the state colleges to issue revenue bonds, then failed to generate enough votes to report the bill to the floor.

As introduced by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, LB810 would authorize revenue bonds for dormitories, athletic facilities, student and faculty housing, and academic buildings, including classrooms, laboratories and offices.

Carpenter said his bill, proposing a constitutional amendment in the November, 1970, election, would "validate what the schools have done in the issuing of revenue bonds and broaden what they can do in the future."

References Deleted

However, the committee deleted all reference to academic buildings and patient care facilities.

While it approved language to ratify and validate previous bond issues, the panel added a provision requiring approval of the Legislature "for revenue bonds issued for new construction."

Committee amendments also limited bond revenue to "revenues derived from the use of buildings and facilities constructed, including buildings previously constructed and paid for out of proceeds from prior issues..."

Deleted was all reference to student fees and tuition as revenue sources for bonds.

No Opposition

The measure was supported by the University of Nebraska and the State Normal Board. There was no opposition.

A test case regarding the legal authority of the Normal Board to issue revenue bonds for dormitories is headed for the State Supreme Court.

Also stalled in the committee was LB798, which provides for conversion of a Class VI high school district to a kindergarten-to-12th-grade district with a 60% affirmative vote.

Carpenter Hopes To Override Veto On Marijuana Bill

Sen. Terry Carpenter announced Tuesday he will attempt on Thursday to override Gov. Norbert T. Tieman's veto of his bill requiring 30-day suspensions of college students convicted of marijuana possession.

In the meantime, the Scottsbluff lawmaker said, he wants "the people of this state, if they are interested, to convey to this body whether they think LB8 is a good bill and whether to let the court determine if it is constitutional, and not the governor."

Gov. Tiemann vetoed the bill Monday night before leaving for a national governors conference in Washington, and his rejection letter was read to the Unicameral Tuesday morning.

Carpenter, who had reacted angrily to the veto, said Tiemann will have "to learn to adjust his own conscience with his actions." Carpenter said initially he had not determined whether to attempt to salvage the bill, but announced later he would make his revival move Thursday.

Bill To Repeal Sterilization Law For Retarded Moves Onto Floor

The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee Tuesday sent to the floor the bill erasing the sterilization law which is now before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The law, in effect since 1957, pertains only to inmates of the Beatrice State Home as a prerequisite to release.

The committee vote on Sen. Fern Orme's LB547 was 4-0 with three abstentions.

Case Accepted

The high court only Monday accepted the case against the law brought by Mrs. Gloria Cavitt, a resident of the home.

She is contesting the right of government to require sterilization as a condition of release.

Public hearing on the legislative bill was taken Monday. The Nebraska Association for Retarded Children, the Beatrice State Home's legislative committee and the Governor's Citizens Committee on Mental Retardation supported repeal of the law.

In a three-hour sitting, the committee also killed four other measures and advanced two others to the floor.

Others Sidelined

Among those going to the sidelines were related bills removing and reducing the lien against personal property held by recipients of public assistance to the aged, disabled or blind. The vote on each was 4-3.

Sen. Edward Danner's LB300, removing the lien entirely, earlier was sent to the floor but was brought back to the committee for an amendment. LB551, sponsored by Sen. Harold Simpson, would have exempted $2,000 from the actual value on property held by welfare liens.

Also axed were LB579 requiring the director of institutions to have certain education degrees in business and-or hospital administration and a certain number of years of experience in administration, and LB795 requiring the director of health to have a master's degree in public health to go along with his medical degree and license.

Mental Health Compact

Co-sponsored by 10 lawmakers, LB604, enacting an "interstate compact on mental health" which has been adopted in 35 other states, was moved to the floor.

Under the compact, Nebraskans moving to other states and those moving into the state would be eligible for mental health benefits without fulfilling certain residency requirements.

Sen. Jerome Warner's LB565, prohibiting the penal complex from holding any leased farm land after March 1, 1972, also was sent to the floor.

The institution owns over 1,500 acres for farming operations and leases about 980.

Weapons To Be Sold

Paris (UPI) — The French government has authorized the sale of 24 self-propelled artillery pieces to Argentina, informed sources said. The 155mm weapons, which are mounted on tractors, have a range of 12 miles.

Bill Creating Education Council Survives Attack

By Associated Press

The bill creating a Nebraska Coordinating Council on Higher Education escaped a kill attempt in the Legislature Tuesday after it was vigorously attacked as a tool to usurp the lawmakers' power.

At issue was LB205, a measure which evolved from an interim study on higher education. The bill drew strong backing from professional educators at a recent public hearing.

The vote to kill was 17-27. The lawmakers then unanimously agreed to postpone further discussion to some undetermined date.

Proponents of creating the council said it would provide much needed coordination among post-high school institutions as required by recent mushrooming enrollments and costs of education.

Nine-Member Council

Under the bill's terms, the council would be composed of nine members, three from each congressional district. They would be appointed by the governor.

The council would have control over all higher education except the University of Nebraska and the four state colleges, which must be governed by the Board of Regents and the Normal Board, respectively, according to the State Consitiution.

The council would also make extensive studies and make recommendations on all higher education, chief sponsor Sen. John Knight of Lincoln explained.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha said the council would be "a monstrosity that will become so strong we (the Legislature) will have to play second fiddle."

Theory Termed Fine

Sen. Clifton Batchelder said in theory, the idea is fine, but the council would have no enforcement powers. The Legislature "has the power to control," he said.

Sen. Knight said the council would be an "objective, neutral" group, serving between the institutions themselves and the Legislature.

"Let's get control of higher education before it dominates us," urged Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr., who was among eight senators co-sponsoring the bill.

Sen. Terry Carpenter suggested Sen. Knight propose a constitutional amendment giving the council authority over the university and the state colleges as well.

Another Carpenter suggestion was to appropriate the $300,000 or $400,000 needed to run the council and use the funds to beef up the Legislature's research staff for studies of all state agencies, not just higher education.

How senators voted Tuesday on a motion to kill LB205:

For (17)—Batchelder, Bloom, Carpenter, Clark, Danner, Keyes, Klaver, Kokes, Mahoney, Moylan, Orme, Reynolds, Skarda, Stull, Syas, Waldron, Whitney.

Against (27)—Adamson, Budd, Burbach, Craft, Duis Elrod, Harsh, Hasebroock, Holmquist, Johnson, Knight, Kremer, Luedtke, Marvel, Moulton, Pedersen, Proud, Robinson, Schmidt, Schreurs, Simpson, Swanson, Waldo, Wallwey, Warner Wenzlaff, Ziebarth.

Not voting (5) — Carstens, Kennedy, Nore, Wiltse, Wylie.

Veterans Home Designation OK'd

Legislation changing the name of the Nebraska Soldiers' and Sailors' Home in Grand Island to "Nebraska Veterans Home" was approved 48-0 on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday.

Sen. Don Elrod of Grand Island was joined by Sens. William Swanson of Lincoln and Richard Marvel of Hastings in sponsorship of the measure, LB176.

Another of the five bills passed Tuesday was Callaway Sen. J. James Waldron's LB229, increasing from 640 acres to 3,200 acres the maximum size of game breeding and controlled shooting areas.

A bill which had been passed earlier but was subsequently called back, Omaha Sen. Sam Klaver's LB169, reducing the minimum age for jurors from 25 to 21, was re-passed and sent to the governor. The bill had been retrieved to delete the emergency clause, which would have made the act effective immediately on the governor's signature. Deletion of the emergency clause will give the courts time to gear their jury selection machinery to the new age limitation.

The list of bills passed (E-emergency clause):

LB122 (Judiciary Committee) — Harmonizing law related to Banking Department and interest charges. 46-0.

LB169 (Klaver) — Reducing from 25 to 21 the minimum age for jurors. 46-0.

LB176 (Elrod, Swanson, Marvel) — Changing name of the Nebraska Soldiers' and Sailors' Home to "Nebraska Veterans Home." 48-0.

LB229 (Waldron) — Increasing from 640 acres to 3,200 acres the maximum size of game breeding and controlled shooting areas. (E) 48-0.

LB272 (Swanson) — Providing means of service of process on nonresident manufacturers and distributors of motor vehicles, motorcycles or trailers. 47-0.

Solons Withdraw From Bills Lowering Adult Rights Age

Sens. Elvin Adamson of Valentine and C. W. Holmquist of Oakland withdrew Tuesday from sponsorship of a pair of bills designed to extend the privileges of adulthood to younger persons.

Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha, who had been a co-sponsor, became the bills' chief and only sponsor.

The bills at issue, both principally sponsored by Adamson, are LB167, reducing from 21 to 20 the age of majority in Nebraska, and LB168, submitting to voters a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age from 21 to 20.

Adamson said the governor's office has indicated it would not be satisfied with an age reduction to 20, but desired a drop to 18 or 19. Adamson said he could not go along with this position.

Holmquist indicated he could not go along with a prospect that youths 18 or 19 might become eligible to run for and be elected to the Legislature.

LB167 has received first and second round approval in a form which holds that a person becomes an adult at age 20 and is entitled to privileges of adulthood, including the right to buy alcoholic beverages. Sen. J. James Waldron of Callaway has promised an attempt to reduce the age to 19.

LB168, which in effect resubmits a modified lowered-voting-age proposition to the voters, awaits first round floor debate. Voters last November narrowly rejected an amendment which would have reduced the voting age to 19.

Harsh To Propose Public Employes Measure Change

State Sen. Lester Harsh of McCook informed his fellow lawmakers Tuesday he will attempt to exclude teachers from a bill giving public employes the right to take salary disputes to the State Court of Industrial Relations.

Harsh, who is chairman of the Education Committee, began an attempt to amend the bill, LB15. However, he withdrew his amendment when told it would be easier to do it from a procedural viewpoint at a later date.

Harsh could have amended the bill Tuesday had there been no objection but State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, the bills chief sponsor, objected.

The bill, which has received two of the three approvals it must secure from the Legislature to become law, would officially allow all state employes to join unions. It would give the State Court of Industrial Relations the power to arbitrate any salary disputes.

Harsh did not elaborate on his reasons for the attempt to amend the bill, except to say teachers "now have the right to negotiate with their local school boards."

Bill To Abolish Justice Of Peace Courts Introduced

A bill which would abolish all justice of the peace courts in Nebraska and substitute either a magistrate court or the county court for them was introduced in the Unicameral Tuesday.

The bill, LB1290, sponsored by State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, was one of three which were introduced, raising the total to 1,292 this session.

Carpenter's bill would substitute magistrate courts for justices of the peace courts in all counties with more than 30,000 population and substitute county courts for them in smaller counties.

The magistrate court judges would be appointed in the same way as other judges in the state, with the governor making the appointment from a list of two judges submitted to him.

Douglas County would have seven magistrate judges, Lancaster County would have four and the other counties with more than 30,000 would have one judge each.

The court would be "always open."

The other two bills introduced Tuesday deal with agriculture. One of the bills provides for the Department of Public Safety to coordinate and administer state board inspection programs in eight areas involving other state departments. The other sets up in the Department of Agriculture a section to license all soil analysis done in the state.

Legislative Bills Introduced

By Associated Press

Bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday:

LB1290 (Carpenter) — Providing that magistrate or county courts shall become substitutes for justice of the peace courts in Nebraska.

LB1291 (Waldo, Kremer, Harsh)—Providing that the Division of Public Safety shall handle certain border inspections and law enforcement with respect to combines, permits on plant disease, health and other permits.

LB1292 (Waldo, Kremer, Harsh)—Writing into law a Nebraska soil analysis, laboratory certification act.

Spring has got this far north, 10 degrees above the equator in Caracas, Venezuela.

It was a banana revolution town of 25,000 only a few years ago. Oil made the difference. Venezuela drips with oil.

Thus prices are high. There are some rich and many in poverty that you find throughout Latin America. The banana revolution has grown to a modern, Castro-backed, off-and-on revolt.

☆ ☆ ☆

Caracas has grown to a two million city, topped by skyscrapers. We came into the port town, La Guaira, early in the morning. The Princess Carla edged up to the docks.

It's a tricky maneuver. Ships have no brakes. And this being the maiden voyage, I imagine the Captain didn't want to scrape the paint.

La Guaira is a port, nothing more. Everybody gets off and goes up to Caracas, over the mountains on a narrow plateau at 4,000 feet.

☆ ☆ ☆

There are two ways to get to Caracas. By cab ($8) up the winding main highway. Or you can go a few miles down the coast to the Hotel Sheraton-Macuto and take a hanging cable car up the mountain.

At the mountain top is another Sheraton — the Sheraton-Rumboldt looking down on Caracas. You get another cable car here and slide down the wire into the city.

We took the cab to town. (Those cars swinging on a wire scare me to death. Passengers who took it said the view was spectacular. I believe them.)

☆ ☆ ☆

There was an election a few weeks ago. Still something of a novelty in a land ruled by military dictators throughout its history. (The country has had more than a hundred revolutions and has written 25 constitutions.)

Even more of a novelty — the opposition party won.

The taxi driver said he expected trouble. "You don't really think a government in power is going to step down, do you?"

I said if the government felt that way, why hadn't they cheated on the election returns?

"They did," said the driver. "That's why the vote was so close. If they hadn't cheated, they'd have lost by a mile."

☆ ☆ ☆

Later in the day, I called the American Embassy — they have all kinds of problems here.

A grumpy sounding fellow said: "Nonsense. There was no cheating at the elections, and the government will change hands without trouble.

"What we are seeing here is a remarkable triumph of the democratic process." Click!

☆ ☆ ☆

Oil stills troubled waters, but it usually makes a troubled land. Oil money makes a trip into a Caracas night club an adventure. The adventure is when you get the check.

Oil pushed up living costs. Pushed up some wages but not enough to wipe out the poverty.

☆ ☆ ☆

The valley of the city is filled with exuberant skyscrapers. The hillsides are covered with squatters' shacks. Colonies like the wretched favelas of Rio de Janeiro.

They said a fourth of the Caracas population — a half million people — lives in shack country.

There's a downtown Centro Bolivar business district. A grandiose Army Officers' Club.

You wind up for cocktails on the terrace of the swank Tamanaco Hotel with a feeling you didn't get into the heart of the town. That there's some grinding imbalance. And you're probably right.

Student Court Bill OK'd By Senate At Wesleyan

The Nebraska Wesleyan Student Senate has adopted a bill establishing a student court.

Student Senate President George Witt said the action by the senators was unanimous. Witt said the senate constitution permits creation of the court without a vote of the student body.

The bill was introduced by Steve Kenyon, Columbia, Mo., sophomore.

Kenyon's bill says the function of the student court would be to "provide a fair hearing and a decision by students in cases involving infractions of university rules."

As envisioned in Kenyon's original proposal, the student court would consist of seven members chosen from the sophomore, junior and senior classes. At least three members would have to be seniors. Terms would be for one year.

Kenyon's bill calls for jurisdiction of the student court to cover all cases of student infractions of established regulations or standards of student conduct, except in cases involving mental illness or sexual immorality.

The proposed student court would have jurisdiction over appeals from other judicial councils and student court decisions could be appealed to the president of the university.

The student court bill as passed could permit the court to decide appropriate sentences and recommend enforcement by university authorities.

Kenyon's bill also outlines procedures for the bringing of charges and the manner of operation by the court.

ETV Headquarters Building Backed By Nurses Unit

The Nebraska Television Council for Nursing education said Tuesday it will give any support it can to a proposal to build separate headquarters in Lincoln for the Nebraska ETV network.

The council said it has passed a resolution putting it on record as supporting the Nebraska ETV network to secure the headquarters, which cannot be built without an appropriation from the Legislature.

It said such a building "will permit them to produce and air the quality and quantity of programs deserved by the people of Nebraska."

NWU Urged To Participate In Equality Project

The University Christian Movement at Nebraska Wesleyan has adopted a resolution recommending that the university become a member of Project Equality.

Pres. Phyllis Roe said the resoultion is a first step in getting full backing for the nation-wide program from the college.

The NWU UCM chapter is an active supporter of the program designed to achieve equal opportunity in all aspects of employment, Miss Roe said.

She said the UCM chapter has established a speakers bureau on the subject and will appear at local churches to explain the program.

ncreased Cases Of Influenza Close uperior Schools For Rest Of Week

Superior (AP) — Superior ublic schools will remain losed throughout this week s a result of continued ineases in cases of influenza, Supt. Dale Mooberry said Tuesday.

The Superior schools closed Monday afternoon after officials reported absenteeism had been running about 40%.

Officials reported that the schools had operated virtually as normal during the recent nation-wide epidemic of Hong Kong flu.

But reports indicated that nearby schools are beginning to show rapid increases in absenteeism, also believed to be a result of the flu.

Nelson schools have reported a 20% increase in absences and said that school would be closed Wednesday if the situation becomes worse.

Class C district basketball tournaments were being played in Superior as scheduled, despite advice from local medical authorities that students avoid congregating in groups.

Miss Gadeken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gadeken, will begin her studies June 1, when she will attend a 10-week summer session at the liberal arts college.

Packing Plant Merger Hearing Slated March 6

Sioux City, Iowa (AP) — A U.S. District Court hearing is scheduled here March 6 to examine the legality of a proposed merger of two Midwest beef packing companies.

The Justice Department filed a civil antitrust suit against the merger Monday, and federal Judge William C. Hanson issued a temporary injunction blocking it.

Iowa Beef Packers, Inc. of Dakota City, Neb., and Blue Ribbon Beef Pack, Inc., of Mason City, proposed the merger, which would have taken place Wednesday.

The Justice Department claimed the merger would eliminate competition in violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act.

Beaver Crossing — Funeral services for Mrs. Tom (Cleone) Leahy, 31, of Beaver Crossing will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Blair. She died in a Blair hospital Sunday.

Born at Norfolk, Mrs. Leahy was the wife of the coach of the Beaver Crossing schools.

Surviving in addition to her husband, are daughters, Ann, 12, Amureen, 11, and Mary, 8; sons, Ryan, 9, Brendan, 7, Patrick, 3½, and Kevin, 1½; her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Andersen of Norfolk; and twin brothers, Dale Forsyth of Anaheim, Calif., and Delbert Forsyth of Norfolk.

McCarty Given Service Award

Kearney (AP) — The Kearney Kiwanis Club has presented its annual service award to John J. McCarty, superintendent of the Kearney Boys Training School. The annual award cited McCarty's service to the community through his work at the training school since his assignment to the post Jan. 1, 1968.

The Conquistadors were Spanish soldiers and adventurers who explored and conquered sections of the new world.

Rogers Rehired As Head Douglas Assistance Unit

Omaha (AP) — Harold W. Rogers has been rehired as head of the Douglas County Assistance Bureau.

The Douglas County board approved the rehiring Tuesday.

The employment of Rogers, who had resigned as state welfare director, was requested by County Welfare Director Michael T. Healey and County Commissioner James M. Murphy.

Healey said Rogers will draw $14,000 per year in the post.

School Land Sale Brings $113,280

Alliance (AP) — Three parcels of state school land brought $113,280 at a sale here.

Joseph and Frank Moeler paid $14,000 for a 330-acre tract. Top price was $51,200 paid by Tom Manion for a 660-acre tract.

Royce Daugherty paid $47,680 for two tracts totaling 660 acres. The buyers all reside in Box Butte County.

137 Students At JFK College Are Honored On Dean's List

Wahoo —Academic Dean Stanley Newcomb announced that 137 students had been named to the Dean's List at the John F. Kennedy College in Wahoo. The Dean's List honors students for outstanding academic work, and it includes those students who have received a 3.0 (B) average or better in their course work for the first semester of the 1968-69 academic year.

Three JFK students compiled a perfect (4.0 or "A") record for the first semester. They are: Terence Mauro of Omaha, Nebraska; Nancy Miners of Wahoo, Nebraska; and Michael Owen of East Northport, N.Y.

Nebraskans on the Dean's List included:

Sargent Given Life Sentence

Omaha (UPI) — Robert Sargent, 38, was sentenced to life in prison after pleading guilty to first degree murder in the death of his former wife.

County Atty. Donald L. Knowles recommended to Judge Rudolph Tesar that Sargent be given a life sentence.

He was accused of shooting Mrs. Elaine E. Sargent, 37, on Oct. 1.

The couple, who had been divorced about a year, had three children.

Steam-Turbo Generator Approved

Grand Island (AP) — Authorization for installation of a 50-megawatt steam-turbo generating unit as part of a $10.5 million city utility expansion program has been referred to the State Regional Planning Commission for recommendation.

In making the referral, the Grand Island City Council indicated its approval of the project.

City Utilities Commissioner Frank Phelps recommended the installation of the generating unit at the city's C. W. Burdick Power Station as soon as possible.

Ray Reeser, chairman of a citizens power committee, told the council his group found the expansion is necessary if the city is to remain in the power business.

The first successful European copy of Chinese orcelain was made in 1709 by Botiger in Dresden, Germany.

Bride At Evening Church Ceremony

Bouquets of gladioli and chrysanthemums in gold appointed the candlelighted altar of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Central City, Friday evening, Feb. 14, for the marriage of Miss Beryl Janine Magnusson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Magnusson, Central City, to James Lowell Kohtz, son of Mrs. Mildred Kohtz, Central City, and of Lowell Kohtz, Grand Island. The service was solemnied by the Rev. Willis Taplin.

Miss Deborah Magnusson, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Pamela Kohtz and Mrs. Dan Erickson, wore slim floor-length skirts of gold velvet contrasted by Empire basques of embroidered satin. They carried white and gold chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man was Gerald Kohtz, and the ushers were Larry Douthit and David Gerlach, Central City; Dean Cole, Columbus; and Kurt Kiesling, Grand Island.

Medallion appliques of Venise lace patterned the bride's gown of ivory peau de soie. The lace encircled the high waistline of the long-sleeved bodice, and was repeated in double bandings near the hem of the slender skirt which was completed by an asle-wide train of lace bordered silk. Her high-crowned cap was draped with hand-embroidered lace from Beauvais, France, a gift from the bride's father, and she carried a cascade of red roses centered with a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Kohtz will live in Lincoln, at 4616 Stockwell. The bride is a graduate of Bryan Hospital School of Nursing, and Mr. Kohtz, who recently returned from service with the Marine Corps in Vietnam, is a former student at the University of Nebraska.

Courtesies Honor NU Coed

A spring bride-elect who is being honored at numerous courtesies preceding her March wedding is Miss Sheri Key, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Key, whose marriage to Michael Bonham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion C. Bonham of York, will be an event of Saturday, March 29.

The bride-to-be will go to York on Saturday evening when she will be presented a kitchen shower at a party for which Mrs. Jay Meradith of York will be hostess at her home. Co-hostesses for the courtesy will be Mrs. Beth Welch, Mrs. Lyle Furst and Mrs. Robert Greene, all of York.

Also held in York, was the personal shower for Miss Key which was given by Mrs. Frank Kirtley on Friday evening, Feb. 14, at her home. Mrs. Robert Taylor of Ogallala, Mr. Bonham's sister, was a special guest at the party, and co-hostesses were Mrs. Albert Kirtley of Lincoln, and Mrs. Bud Neucomer, York.

A kitchen gadget shower was presented to Miss Kay on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 9, when Mrs. Mason Bowes and her daughter, Miss Ann Bowes, Mrs. Dean Hile and daughter, Miss Suzette Hile, and Mrs. William Malone and daughter, Miss Janet Malone, were hostesses in the parlors of Vine Congregational Church.

The bride-to-be is a student at the University of Nebraska, and her fiance attends Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Luncheon Speaker

A talk on her recent trip to Washington, D.C., and the presidential inauguration was given by Mrs. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha, at the Monday meeting of the Nebraska Unicameral Ladies Club.

Guests at the luncheon, held at the Hotel Cornhusker, were Mrs. Norbert Tiemann, Mrs. Arnold Ruhnke, Mrs. Leslie Boslaugh, Mrs. Lloyd Marti, Mrs. Irving Walker, Mrs. Dale Hayes, Mrs. Dean Lowry and Mrs. Andy Hove.

Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Harold Moylan of Omaha, and Mrs. Irving Wiltse, Falls City.

The club does not plan to meet on Monday, but will hold its next meeting Wednesday, March 5, at Hovland-Swanson's, with Mrs. Ramey Whitney and Mrs. Leslie Stull as hostesses.

Chapter Meeting

A program, "The Fascination of Collecting Art," was presented by Miss Agnes Van Ackeren on Friday evening for the meeting of the Nebraska Alpha Chapter of Delta Theta Chi national cultural and philanthropic sorority, held at the home of Miss Ackerren.

A guest of the club was Miss Dorothea Heckman.

NU Club

Members of the University of Nebraska Law Wives Club will meet Wednesday at 7:45 o'clock, for an informal evening of bridge. Hostess to the group will be Mrs. James Applegate, 5068 Loring, Lincoln Air Park West.

Dental Workshop

A workshop has been scheduled for Nebraska dentists and dental assistants to be held Friday and Saturday, at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Opening at 8:30 o'clock Friday morning and concluding at noon, Saturday, the workshop will have as its theme, "Auxiliary Personnel, the Keystone to a Successful Practice."

New Hi-Wives Club Is Organized

What began as an opportunity to become better acquainted has turned into a full-fledged club for the wives of Nebraska State Department of Roads personnel.

At a luncheon and organizational meeting held Tuesday in the cafeteria of the department's headquarters, the wives of department and division officials made plans for a busy spring of social gatherings for the new group, which, tentatively, will be known as the Hi-Wives.

The organizing group voted for once-a-month meetings, and when the ladies gather on Tuesday, March 25, the luncheon will be followed by an afternoon of cards.

Mrs. M. L. Nuernberger and Mrs. Bruce C. Gillan were named temporary co-chairmen of the group. From the left are Mrs. O. W. Johnson, Mrs. Gillan, Mrs. Nuernberger and Mrs. R. E. Gardner.

Activity In Suburbia

Birthdays seem to be very much in the news for our suburban residents this week. In fact, one of the celebrations we have to tell about involves a combination party for a young Lincoln lad and his great-grandmother. We also have news of weekend guests from Denver, Colo., Beatrice and Wayne, plus a family reunion in early March

The combination party we mentioned was held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, at the Eastborough home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruyle to honor their son Robert III, who was 3 years old on Monday, Feb. 24 — and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Lloyd Ruyle of Beatrice, who celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary.

Other party guests were Robert's great-grandfather Ruyle, of course, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ruyle, all of Beatrice. Refreshments of home-made ice cream and cake were enjoyed by everyone, especially the young honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Eickhoff entertained at a dinner party at their Eastborough home on Saturday evening, Feb. 22, in courtesy to Mrs. Eickhoff's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brittell of Denver, Colo., who were guests in Lincoln last weekend. Mrs. Eichoff's and Mrs. Brittell's father, Norman Gates, and Mrs. Florence Horstman completed the guest list.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittell arrived in Lincoln Friday afternoon, Feb. 21, and were the house guests of Mr. Brittell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brittell. Saturday evening they were overnight guests at the home of Mrs. Brittell's father before returning to Denver on Sunday.

Ten-year-old Miss Vicki Patton is busy making plans for the Shining Shamrock 4-H Club box supper on Saturday evening, March 15. The supper which will be held at the Union Loan and Savings party room, is a special occasion for young Miss Patton because she will be entertaining her father, Gordon Patton, as her guest. Needless to say, Miss Patton and her mother, Mrs. Patton, have their heads together in their Eastborough home cococting some delicious tidbits for that box supper.

The Southbrook Summit home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clover is full of preparations these days for Mrs. Clover's trip to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Myers, in Enid, Okla. Mrs. Clover will leave Thursday, March 13, for Enid to help her parents celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary which is on Sunday, March 16

Mrs. Clover's stay in Oklahoma will be doubly enjoyable because the occasion will be the first time in more than 20 years that all of the members of her family including her brothers, Robert Myers of Silver Spring, Md., Harold Myers of Portland, Ore., and Elliott Myers of Overland Park, Kan., will be together.

DAR Conference

The 67th annual state conference of the Nebraska Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 5, 6 and 7, at the Hotel Ft. Kearney in Kearney, with state regent, Mrs. Charles T. Milligan of McCook, presiding.

Special guests at the conference will be Mrs. Sherman Watson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, national chairman of American Heritage, and Mrs. Carl Frederick Bartels of Dubuque, Iowa, regent of the Iowa Society of DAR.

Mrs. Watson will be featured speaker at the Friday evening awards banquet, and, with Mrs. Bartels, will participate in other conference activities, which will include a state regents breakfast Thursday morning, and a traditional memorial service to be held Friday afternoon at St. Luke's Church, Episcopal.

The opening dinner Thursday evening will be followed by a reception honoring state officials, and Friday morning, the annual CAR (Children of the American Revolution) Red Carnation Breakfast will be held under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Peters of Omaha, senior state president of CAR.

Thursday noon, Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. B. C. McLean of Lincoln, state vice regent, will be hostesses at luncheon honoring all state officers, past state regents, and the regents of the hostess chapters: the Cozad Chapter, Cozad; Council Cottonwood Chapter, Franklin; Ft. Kearney Chapter, Kearney; Bonneville Chapter, Lexington; Sioux Lookout Chapter, North Platte; Shelton Chapter, Shelton; and Thirty-Seventh Star Chapter, McCook.

Other state officers include Mrs. Merril J. Hewitt, Omaha, chaplain; Mrs. Ray L. Hunter, Superior, recording secretary; Mrs. LaVern C. Strough, Omaha, corresponding secretary; Miss Blanche Newhall, Lincoln, treasurer; Mrs. Gage G. Vohland, Shelton, registrar; Miss Henrietta Johnson, Broken Bow, historian; and Mrs. J. Carroll Bobbitt, Omaha, librarian.

Start your own holding action ...and live!

Your Arthur Murray Dance Studio is starting a movement to bring people closer together. It's called dancing with a partner. And this revolutionary "old" idea is a lot more fun than those "go it alone" numbers we have today.

Yes, you'll get to hold a real live partner in your arms again! Experience the thrill of Tangoing as a twosome. Breeze through Bossa Novas. Make beautiful music together.

And as a member of the Arthur Murray "Fun Set," you'll dance the night away at delightful partytime mixers...gala dance socials...night-on-the-town club parties.

So "let-yourself-go" to your Arthur Murray Studio. And get in touch with exciting fun people again.

Varied Program For NREA Ladies

Whether it's dreams of a wonderful new dishwasher or inspiration for a new leisure-time hobby, there is something of special interest for all the wives who are attending the annual meeting of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association ladies this week at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Also to be stressed in the three-day program for the ladies are home safety tips and home lighting.

Mrs. Dale Stubblefield of Shelton, and Mrs. Clarence Kraft of Alliance, are presiding officers, and serving on the nominating committee are Mrs. Ed Koza of Lexington, Mrs. Myron Jones, Osceola, and Mrs. Stubblefield.

From the left are Mrs. Kraft; Mrs. Stubblefield; Mrs. John Clema, Lincoln, co-chairman of women's program; Mrs. Theodore Smith, Chappell; Mrs. Paul Ogier, Wallace; and Mrs. Frank Houmont, Weissert.

Luncheon

Mrs. R. N. Sandstedt, assisted by Mrs. L. V. Skidmore, were hostesses for the February meeting of the Odds And Ends Extension Club last Thursday, when the lesson, ''Baking With Yeast", was presented by Mrs. Elton Lux and Mrs. L. Bowen.

As the day also marked the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Sandstedt, a luncheon was held preceding the meeting to celebrate the occassion.

Bridal Attendants Announced

Naming the members of her bridal party is Miss Susan Elizabeth Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Tilden Jones, who will become the bride of Gary Lynn Hopkins on Sunday, March 2.

For the ceremony, to be solemnized at Piedmont Park Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Miss Jones has named Miss Julie Blom and Miss Helen Ann Jones as her honor attendants. The bridesmaids will be Miss Peggy Hopkins of Silver City, N.M., and Miss Janet Webb, and the flower girl will be Miss Schana George

Mr. Hopkins's sister, Miss Janet Hopkins of Silver City, N.M., and the bride-elect's brother, T. J. Jones, will light the chancel candles for the 7:30 o'clock service

Paul Betlinski will serve Mr. Hopkins as best man and the groomsmen will be Randy Barber, Longmont, Colo.; Herb Christopherson, Kellogg, Idaho; and Gerald Oster. Seating the guests will be Terry Verlo, Excelsior, Minn.; Ernie Pearson, Enterprise, Kan.; Ron Christenson, Dodge Center, Minn.; Byron Barber, Boulder, Colo.; and Jerry Teter, Omaha

Miss Jones and her fiance, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Hopkins of Silver City, N.M., will share honors Saturday evening at a prenuptial courtesy for which the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Burnette, will be host and hostess. The party will be held at the College View Academy.

On Sunday, Feb. 16, feminine members of the congregation of the Piedmont Church presented a miscellaneous shower to Miss Jones. An out-of-town guest at the party was Mrs. Marion Gorby of Washington, Pa., Miss Jones's aunt, and hostesses included Mrs. Don Prowant, Mrs. Eugene Schander, Mrs. Chester Norman, Mrs. Lucien Stauffer, Mrs. Roger Baker, Mrs. Don Reeves, Mrs. Russell Strom, and Mrs. Ralph Peterson of Bennet.

Also included among recent courtesies for the bride-to-be was the surprise party given by Miss Juli Blom, Miss Jolene Lang and Miss Helen Ann Jones at the home of Miss Blom. The 16 guests presented a personal shower to the honored guest

Opening lead — seven of hearts.

This dramatic deal occurred in the intercity match between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Montreal during the 1968 summer nationals staged in Minneapolis.

The 72-board match ended in an exact tie, and it was only after an 8-board playoff that the Twin Cities team finally emerged triumphant by 4 international mach points.

The Canadians lost despite a huge gain they registered early in the match on this hand.

The bidding went as shown when Montreal held the North-South cards. Five notrump by South was the grand slam force and required North to jump to seven diamonds with two of the three top trump honors.

North duly obliged by responding seven diamonds, which was certainly a reasonable contract with the North-South cards. At this stage East interjected a double a conventional call directing West to make an unusual lead. East naturally hoped to get a spade lead to put a quick end to the Canadians' grand slam aspirations.

But West misread the double and led a heart. As a result, Montreal chalked up a plus of 2,470 points instead of a 200-point minus.

In the great majority of cases when the defender not on lead doubles a slam conventionally, the unusual lead he hopes to get is the suit dummy bid first — in the present case, hearts. But this is by no means an inviolable rule, and it does seem that West, with a holding of six spades, should have recognized the true situation and found the killing spade lead.

At the second table, where Minneapolis held the North-South cards, the bidding went:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	5 ♣
Pass	5 ♦	Pass	5 ♥
Pass	6 ♥	Pass	7 ♠

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I propose that we adopt the following code of behavior between the sexes: "Henceforth a man may touch any part of a woman's body that he is able to see."

I believe that such a code would induce women to impose upon themselves some restraints on the manner in which they dress.

Our mini-skirted bare-bosomed gals go about exuding as much sexiness as they possibly can, then they expect to be treated like virtuous untouchable young ladies. Any comments?

LEO IN COLUMBUS

DEAR LEO: Yes! I am in favor of "truth in packaging" and against advertising that which one has no intention of delivering, but since when should one be able to touch everything he sees? One should be able to enjoy viewing a mountain without climbing it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 68 years old and he's still in good health, but he is one of those who made his will out 10 years ago and he has changed it half a dozen times since.

The last time he changed it I asked him what changes he had made this time, and he refused to tell me. As his lawful wedded wife, am I not entitled to know what is in my husband's will?

"In The Dark" In Duluth

DEAR IN: In Minnesota, a will is a personal matter, and your husband is under no legal obligation to reveal its contents to you.

Should he precede you in death, however, and if you're not satisfied with the terms, you have the right to renounce it, and take from the estate that which you'd have been entitled to had your husband left no will at all. (The laws in the various states differ!)

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "JACK H. IN L.A." said you goofed when you made reference to the "wives" of the famous WRIGHT BROTHERS, because the Wright brothers were both bachelors!

Well, JACK H. is the one who goofed, because my grandmother's sister was married to Wilbur Wright.

Very truly yours,
O. D. T.: OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON

Slaughter Cattle Are Firm, Up

Omaha (AP)— Slaughter cattle traded on a firm to higher basis at Omaha Tuesday as marketings again were light.

Values on fed steers and heifers were steady to 25 higher, mainly steady to firm in fairly brisk bargaining. Advances were limited primarily to better qualify clean cattle. Numerous offerings still carried substantially amounts of mud and, over-all, condition remained relatively poor. But, volume was light throughout the midlands, forcing more active bidding on the part of selective packers.

Cows ruled steady to strong, but it was mainly a numbers game in this division also. Other cattle classes were little changed.

Butcher hogs were steady on moderated volume. Bulk top was $21.00 with 190-240 lb. butchers ranging to generally $20.50, some down to $19.75.

Sows were firm to 25 higher closing under a top of $19.00 for some near or just under 300 lbs.

Slaughter lambs were steady to 25 lower with best wools on offer going at $28.75 and best shorn reaching $29.00. Slaughter ewes sold to $8.00 quoted to $8.75.

Market Takes Another Drop

New York (AP) — A brief technical rally followed five straight stiff declines, but the advance fizzled, and the stock market took another tumble Tuesday. Trading was fairly active.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 4.17 to 899.80, putting it a shade below the psychologically important 900 level.

When the rally was at its height at the end of the first hour, the Dow was up 6.71 to 910.68.

After the string of losses, the technical rally was freely forecast in Wall Street, but it was regarded as just that.

Many traders took advantage of it to dump stocks at somewhat better prices. They were convinced that the major trend of the market was still downward.

Volume was an active total of 12.32 million shares compared with 12.73 million Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.9 to 338.5 with industrials off 2.7, rails steady, and utilities off 1.4

Of 1,594 issues traded, 1,009 fell and 369 rose. New highs for 1968-69 totaled 2 and new lows 107.

Thirteen of the 15 most-active stocks fell. Standard Oil New Jersey rose 1⅛ and Twentieth-Century-Fox closed unchanged.

Loew's Theatres was the most active stock, off 2¼ at 49¾ on 151,300 shares. It was boosted to the top mainly by a series of big blocks totaling 107,900 shares: transactions of 41,100, 42,800, 10,000 and 14,000 shares.

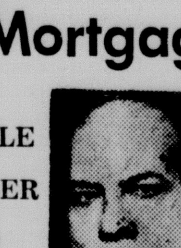
Also heavily traded, Occidental Petroleum and American Telephone lost 1 each, Boeing 3⅛, M-G-M 2⅝, Metromedia 1¼, Great Northern Paper 3¾ and Natomas 3⅝.

Prices declined on the American Stock Exchange after erasing an early advance. Volume was 12.32 million shares compared with 12.73 million Monday.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Reader From Georgia Asks About Paying Off Mortgage

By Merryle S. Rukeyser



MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Sound Approach

A reader of the Columbus, Ga. Enquirer, where this column appears, asks about paying off his home mortgage and saving the interest.

He writes: "Would you comment on the pros and cons of paying off a home mortgage in a lump sum rather than spreading out the payments over the life of the mortgage period originally agreed to. Would it be wise to pay off the mortgage and thus save the interest that I would otherwise have to pay?"

A common sense approach must be related to the specific circumstances. For most home owners the lump sum is not available, and there is no choice except to become a home owner through a long term installment operation.

At present, with interest rates extraordinarily high, mortgages obtained two or more years ago constitute valuable vested rights, which should not be lightly disturbed. Old mortgages carry a lower rate of interest by far than the current rate on new mortgages. Accordingly, paying off the balance in full should be deferred at least during the present money pinch.

More Salable

Furthermore, a house is a more salable if it has a reasonably full mortgage at an attractive rate of interest outstanding. For the new buyer to refinance in this current money market is unduly expensive.

Bsides, a hidden subsidy in favor of owning your home instead of renting enables the man who is his own landlord to reduce the impact of interest through the privilege of deducting interest paid from his net taxable income.

Still another factor is that, if long term inflation, however creeping, should be ahead for America, it pays to have debt outstanding, since it can be paid off with cheaper dollars.

On the other side of the ledger, there is a certain psychological pleasure in knowing that a home is owned free and clear. But this is more an illusion than a reality, since the city and the school district can place liens on the home owner through the imposition of taxes.

Avoid Debt

Yet some breadwinners don't like the idea of leaving indebtedness after death. this contingency can be dealt with in another way. The Equitable Life Assurance Society insists that those who take out home mortgages buy decreasing term insurance which will provide enough dollars to pay off the remaining mortgage (annually reduced) at the death of the family head.

Among the pros and cons is a very human factor. If the breadwinner is likely to lose the lump sum in gambling or ill conceived schemes, then it makes sense to use it to extinguish debt. On the other hand, if the husband is prudent, then he will be able to manage his funds intelligently.

He can improve his diversification and liquidity position by not freezing too large a portion of his capital in nonproductive real estate, such as the family home. Through gradual reduction of the mortgage through the years, the thrifty person, instead of putting all his eggs in one basket, can build up a portfolio of growth stocks and professionally managed investment funds.

Q. A reader in Paterson, N.J., asks about E bonds that have passed their original maturity date. He read that taxwise it is better to wait to cash the bonds after reaching the age of 65.

A. — Since this reader at 62 is already collecting Social Security, he presumably is in a low tax bracket and therefore doesn't have to wait three years. Since his resources are limited, he undoubtedly could use more income, especially in light of the rising cost of living. The Treasury keeps adding interest on these nominally expired E bonds. They no longer serve the reader's needs, since interest accrues for the future, whereas he needs funds to spend now. Since his Social Security is in fixed dollars, the reader would be better balanced in his financial structure if he took on some high yielding electric utility stocks or mutual funds.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Rev. Barry, 89, Retired Catholic Pastor, Is Dead

Kearney (AP) — Funeral services for the Rev. Robert Barry, 89, a longtime pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church at Long Pine, will be held in Long Pine Thursday morning at 10 a.m.

Father Barry died Sunday in Kearney where he had been living in retirement for several years.

Funeral mass will be celebrated in Mount Carmel home in Kearney at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

A native of Springfield, Mass., Father Barry was ordained June 8, 1914. He was assigned to the Crawford parish, stationed at Newport from 1919 to 1923 and then named pastor at Long Pine where he served until his retirement.

Self-employed?

Merrill Lynch is holding a Keogh Retirement Forum

How would you like to learn about a plan—allowing you to pick your own securities—through which you can build a retirement fund for yourself and your employees? The money you put in is deductible for federal income tax purposes. Also, dividends received and realized capital gains are reinvested and are not taxed at the time of receipt. Then, after you retire, you are taxed year by year on only the monies withdrawn as you receive them.

Under the Keogh Act, Congress provided a means for self-employed individuals to put aside tax-deductible funds ear-marked for retirement. Merrill Lynch can now help you with a program directed solely to this purpose.

Cost? This plan, with a custom-made portfolio, is yours at a cost considerably below most other Keogh plans. And, another unusual feature of this plan is that you can combine its investment in securities aspect with your own insurance program, splitting your contributions as you desire.

Want more details about this program? Come to our—

Keogh Retirement Forum
Wednesday evening, March 5
Cornhusker Hotel, Lincoln
starting at 7:30 PM sharp

At our forum:

- You'll learn about the Keogh Act itself and how it can help to protect your future.
- We'll tell you about this special plan under which you make tax-deductible contributions for yourself and your employees and select your own investments.
- You'll get information about what type of securities Merrill Lynch would now recommend for your participation in the program.

Just telephone today—or mail in the coupon below—to reserve seats for what may well prove one of the most important meetings of your life. If you can't attend the forum, call or write for Keogh information. No charge or obligation, of course.

Please reserve.....seats for your Keogh Retirement Forum Wednesday, March 5 at the Cornhusker Hotel, Lincoln.

Here is a practial little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

Still Nothing Settled

If you're a Kansas basketball fan, you'd probably like to think Monday night's Big Eight basketball happenings wrapped up the league race for the Jayhawks.

If you're a Nebraska fan, you'd like to think your Huskers knocked Colorado from the chase. If you're a Missouri fan, you'd like to think your Tigers eliminated Kansas State.

But despite what your first glance at the Monday night results tells you, none of the above things happened as a result of Kansas winning and Colorado and K-State losing.

Before Monday night's action, Kansas faced the problem of having to defeat Colorado at Boulder Saturday and Kansas State next Saturday to win the Big Eight.

They still must beat the Buffs to eliminate Sox Walseth's club from the race. The loss to Nebraska didn't wipe out the Buffs' chances. It simply made it a bit more difficult.

A Colorado win Saturday in the televised contest could force the two to go into a post-season playoff for the championship, providing Kansas can get past Kansas State next week.

Several Possibilities

The final outcome of the Big Eight championship race has nearly as many possibilities as it did when the chase began early in January.

If Kansas wins its remaining games with Colorado, and Kansas State, it's the champion uncontested.

If Kansas State wins its remaining games with Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas, it is assured of at least a tie and a playoff with the Jayhawks.

If Colorado gets by Kansas and Missouri, the worst it can do is a tie and a playoff with either Kansas or Kansas State.

A three-way tie would exist if Kansas loses to both Kansas State and Colorado; the Buffs lose to Missouri; and Kansas State loses to either Missouri or Nebraska.

Confused by that? Hold on, it could get more complicated. How about putting Missouri and Iowa State back in the title picture. Don't laugh, it could happen.

How It Could Happen

Assume this happens: Kansas loses to both Colorado and Kansas State for a 9-5 record; Colorado defeats Kansas, but loses to Missouri for a 9-5 record; Kansas State tops Kansas and Nebraska, but loses to Missouri for a 9-5 record; Missouri defeats Colorado and Kansas State for a 9-5 record; and Iowa State defeats Oklahoma and Oklahoma State for a 9-5 record.

What does that add up to? You don't need a computer to get a five-way tie out of that and if it does happen, they'd better put a mattress beneath Wayne Duke's office in the Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City to catch the jumping commissioner.

The Big Eight basketball chase is following closely in form the league's football race last fall. But there is one important difference.

The football scramble was keynoted by balanced strength. The basketball picture is keynoted by balanced mediocrity. But it's exciting just the same.

Beatrice (AP) — Members of the Nebraska Sports Writers and Sportscasters Association will be dinner guests March 13 in Lincoln of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture during the State Basketball Tournament, Al Riddington, the group's secretary, announced Tuesday.

PENSION DISPUTE OVER

. . . Players Win Increased Benefit Plan

New York (AP) — Major league baseball players won increased pension benefits from the club owners Tuesday and the threat of a strike was lifted.

The owners raised their contribution to the pension plan, made from television receipts, from $4.1 million in 1968 to $5.45 million yearly for the next three years. Retirement benefits at age 50 for a 10-year player will be increased to $600 monthly from $500.

Although the agreement between the executive board of the Players Association and the Player Relations Committee of the major league clubs still must be ratified by both sides, players were told to enter into negotiations for individual contracts and then report to spring training camps.

The increased pension contribution makes possible the following improved benefits, the negotiators announced:

"1. Players will qualify for retirement benefits after four years of major league service rather than the present five years.

"2. Retirement benefits at age 50 will be increased from $50 to $60 a month for each of the first 10 years of active major league service. In addition, retirement benefits payable for each year of active major league service from 11 to 20 years will be increased from $10 to $20 a month.

"3. Early retirement will be permitted at age 45 with an actuarial adjustment from the benefits payable on normal retirement at age 50.

"4. A dental program will be established.

"5. Life insurance coverage will be increased to $50,000 for each active player and $25,000 for each presently inactive player who qualifies for retirement benefits.

"6. Widows' benefits, disability benefits and maternity benefits and other health care benefits will be substantially improved.

"7. Provision will be made to permit a member who has ended his active service as a player to receive a portion of his retirement benefits in a lump sum. Full pension benefits could be reinstated upon appropriate reimbursement to the pension fund."

Settlement of the smouldering dispute was announced jointly by Marvin J. Miller, director of the Baseball Players' Association, and John Gaherin, advisor on player relations to the club owners, after a 3½-hour session of player representatives in a midtown hotel.

Bowie Kuhn, baseball's new commissioner who played a key role in bringing about peace, declared "I am immensely pleased with the settlement which I feel is fair to the players and the clubs alike."

So far only a scattering of veterans have reported to spring training along with aspirant youngsters. Such big names as Willie Mays, Al Kaline, Mickey Mantle and Bob Gibson had declined to sign contracts until the dispute was settled.

Denny McLain, the 31-game winner of the Detroit Tigers and 1968 Most Valuable Player in the American League, signed last fall but stayed away from camp.

Baseball players, even those with salaries ranging from $50,000 to $100,000 annually, are among the most pension conscious of all athletes. This is because their period of high earning power is usually so brief.

The pension plan was started in 1947 with the owners then contributing $1 million annually. It is a sore subject with players whose careers ended before then and hence are ineligible.

Ten At-Large Teams Tabbed

. . . NCAA CAGE TOURNEY

Kansas City (AP) — Ten at-large teams, two of them in the Top Ten of the Associated Press ratings, were invited Tuesday to play in the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament.

The at-large entries will join 15 conference representatives in the university division playoffs starting March 8.

A spokesman at NCAA headquarters here said it was the first time since 1964 that association officials felt there were enough topflight teams to justify filling out the entire 25-team tournament field.

Leading the list of squads selected Tuesday were St. John's, N.Y., (20-3), No. 7 in the AP poll, and Duquesne (17-3), ranked No. 10.

Also chosen were Villanova (20-4), No. 12; New Mexico State (21-3, No. 16, and Marquette (19-4), No. 18.

Other at-large teams receiving bids were Dayton (17-6), Notre Dame (18-5), Trinity of San Antonio, Tex., (18-4), Colorado State (15-4) and Seattle (18-7).

Pairings for first-round play March 8 (starting times will be announced Thursday):

St. John's vs. the Ivy League champion at North Carolina State.

Duquesne vs. the Middle Atlantic Conference champion at the University of Rhode Island.

Villanova vs. the Southern Conference champion at North Carolina State.

New Mexico State vs. the Western Athletic Conference champion at New Mexico State.

Marquette vs. the Ohio Valley Conference champion at Southern Illinois.

Notre Dame vs. the Mid-American Conference champion at Southern Illinois.

Trinity vs. the Southwest Conference champion at Texas Christian.

Dayton vs. Colorado State at TCU.

Seattle vs. the Big Sky Conference champion at New Mexico State.

Regional winners will meet for the national crown March 20-22 in Louisville, Ky.

UCLA is the defending NCAA university division champion, and this year's tournament field also includes Dayton, last season's winner of the National Invitational Tournament.

Boston College (18-3) became the first team Tuesday to be picked for the NIT, which begins March 13 in Madison Square Garden.

Elmwood, Dorchester Victorious

Crete — Elmwood and Dorchester both breezed to easy Class D district playoff victories here Tuesday night, with the Pirates humbling McCool Junction, 97-63, after the Longhorns had taken Malcolm, 67-54, in the opener.

Elmwood sped to a 34-17 first-quarter lead on the Mustangs and the game was almost over before McCool Junction could get started. Scoring 12 points in that first period for Elmwood was 5-8 guard Steve Lawson.

Elmwood cooled down after that torrid first period, scoring 22 points in the second period for a 56-36 halftime advantage. In the second half, despite missing numerous charity tosses, the Pirates outscored their opponents in both of the last two periods handily to take the easy victory.

Leading scorer for Elmwood was Lawson with 22 points. McCool Junction's Alan Chrisman had 21.

In the first game it was nip-and-tuck for the first two periods. Dorchester held a 15-13 edge after one quarter and despite falling behind by a 21-15 count early in the second period came back to lead at the buzzer, 32-29.

Doing most of the yoeman scoring in the second period was 6-3 Clair Gausman, who picked up 11 points and finished the game with 24.

Malcolm in the third period led once, 37-36, with 5:03 to play but then fell steadily behind and trailed after three periods, 49-42, despite good scoring by jump shot artist Dean Hass, who had a game-high total of 25 points.

S.D. State Set

Brookings, S.D. (AP) — The South Dakota State basketball team has accepted an invitation to the Midwest NCAA college division basketball tournament March 7-8 at Springfield, Mo.

The Jackrabbits, 18-4, have clinched a tie for the North Central Conference championship.

Southwest Missouri State was named earlier as the host school. Two other teams will be named later. The winner advances to the national tourney at Evansville, Ind., March 12-14.

Diamond Stars Begin Signing 1969 Contracts

. . . McCARVER, LINZY AGREE TO TERMS

By Associated Press

The major league baseball clubs started a concerted campaign to sign up their star players Tuesday on the heels of agreement in the pension dispute between the owners and the players association.

Tim McCarver, catcher for the National League champion St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the first to sign. No terms were announced but believed to be around $60,000. McCarver will report to the Cards camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Frank Linzy, top relief pitcher for San Francisco, reported at the Giants Casa Grande camp in Arizona and said he had agreed to contract terms.

Dennis McLain, 31-game winning pitcher for the world champion Detroit Tigers, is expected to report Wednesday at the Tigers camp in Lakeland, Fla. McLain had signed his 1969 contract before the threat of a players strike over the pension dispute.

The campaign to sign players overshadowed what activity there was at the training camps, mostly of an unlimbering nature.

San Francisco's Willie Mays has been at the Giants' camp since Monday filming his San Francisco television show and may sign Wednesday. Chub Feeney, the Giants' vice president who negotiates contracts, is due at the camp Wednesday.

Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees star, will arrive Friday to talk with the club and either will sign his usual $100,000 contract or announce his retirement.

The Yankees signed pitcher Stan Bahnsen Tuesday.

Ted Williams, the new manager of the Washington Senators, put on a Senator uniform for the first time at a get-acquainted session at Pompano Beach, Fla.

Pitchers Al Jackson and Ron Taylor signed with the New York Mets at St. Petersburg, Fla., but general manager Johnny Murphy said pitchers Tom eSaver and Jerry Koosman still haven't come to terms.

Veteran pitcher Hank Aguirre signed with the Chicago Cubs as a free agent, but Calvin Griffith, owner of the Minnesota Twins, said Stars Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva, Cesar Tovar and Bob Allison, along with pitchers Dean Chance, Jim Kaat and Dave Boswell, haven't signed yet.

The Los Angeles Dodgers invited all their unsigned players to camp at Vero Beach, Fla. "This is a change of policy for us," said President Walter O'Malley. "Traditionally, a player who hasn't signed his contract is not invited to camp. However, this is an unusual situation."

Starting pitchers Don Drysdale, Claude Osteen, Bill Singer and Don Sutton are among the unsigned Dodgers players.

Creighton '5' Plays On TV

Omaha — Explosive Creighton, a team which has scored 90 or more points in winning six of its last seven games, will battle tourney-bound Marquette in a regionally telecast basketball game at Boys Town Fieldhouse Saturday afternoon.

Starting time for this 53rd meeting (MU 28-24) of the two Jesuit school basketball teams has been advanced to 1:40 p.m. to accommodate the telecast. Tip-off originally was scheduled for 2 p.m. There will be a frosh prelim with Southwest Iowa Community College at 11:40 a.m.

The Marquette contest has been moved to world-famous Father Flanagan's Boys Town because of a Sports Show booked into Civic Auditorium Arena, home court of the Bluejays. Only general admission tickets will be sold. A section will be reserved for season ticket holders.

The Creighton-Marquette meeting takes on added luster with each team sporting its all-time scoring leader — the Bluejays with 6-5 forward Bob Portman: 1,803 points; the Warriors with 6-2 forward George Thompson with over 16 hundred to his credit.

Kinnaird Tops Chadron Cagers

Chadron — Mike Kinnaird averaged 24.4 points a game and hit 54.4 per cent of his floor shots this year to pace the 1968-69 Chadron College cagers, final team statistics show.

Two other players hit in double figures, Preston Smith averaging 15.2 for the year and Jack Kuiper 11.6 for the game season.

Other highlights show Kinnaird with 290 rebounds, Smith with 44 assists, Rod Ehler with 41 and Steve Aggers with 40.

The Eagles finished with a 12-13 record.

Busch (5-9)	G	(6-0) Williams
Ahl (5-10)	G	(6-0) Massey

Tipoff: 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Ira J. Taylor Gym, 53rd and Huntington.

Nebraska Wesleyan's basketball team will try to avenge its worst loss of last season tonight in the final home game of the year for the Plainsmen.

Oral Roberts University will be the opposing team. Last year at Tulsa, Okla. the NWU quintet was soundly thumped, 109-72.

A victory would assure Wesleyan of its best record and most season wins in three years. Coach Irv ePterson's club is now at 12-12 on the year. Following Oral Roberts, the Plainsmen end their season Thursday at Dana College in Blair.

Wesleyan had identical 12-13 records the past two years. Two members of the squad will be playing their last home game tonight. They are starting guards Kim Busch and Kenny Ahl.

And Ahl just may pick up Wednesday's game ball as a souvenir. He will if he can pick up 12 points against the stingy Oral Roberts defense. Kenny, the little Louisville sharp-shooter, needs 12 points to become the greatest scorer in Wesleyan basketball history.

He currently has 1606 points while Rudy Stoehr's record is 1617. Stoehr is going to be on hand for the game. He will join a large band of former Wesleyan players invited to the game for a halftime ceremony to honor coach Peterson.

Last week the 19-year NWU veteran coach picked up his 300th career win with a 118-96 romp past Hastings. Athletic director Woody Greeno will join the current and past cagers tonight in presenting Peterson with the game ball from that tilt.

Should Ahl get near his 23-point-per-game average tonight's game ball will be labeled his and presented at the annual athletic banquet this spring. He and Busch have manned the guard posts for the Plainsmen for three years. Busch exploded for 24 points against Hastings which is by far his collegiate high.

John Brown also adds scoring punch to the NWU attack. He has 455 points for a 20.7 average. Big Ernie Strasil continues to lead the Wesleyan rebounders with 204.

Big Eight Track Marks In Danger

. . RECORDS COULD TUMBLE IN 12 OF 14 EVENTS AT LOOP MEET

Kansas City, Mo. — Records in 12 of the 14 events scheduled for the 41st staging of the Big Eight Conference indoor track championships could fall this weekend before one of the most well-balanced fields in the history of the league.

Kansas is the defending champion and has tremendous returning depth, which makes the Jayhawks the early favorites. However, because of the unusual event balance, performances in the field and on the track are expected to far overshadow the team title race.

Probably the most certain of the marks to fall will be the 61-7¼ in the shot put, held by Missouri's Gene Crews. A pair of Kansas hefties are hot after the standard, with Karl Salb ranking now as the No. 1 collegiate shot putter after his 65-5¼ heave two weeks ago. Also throwing over the record is Steve Wilhelm.

Larry Curts' return in the pole vault for Oklahoma State could signify another change in the vaulting mark. Curts did hold it once at 16-1. This year, he's been three inches over the 16-3 standard held by Colorado's Chuck Rogers. Another Buff, Tom Porter, has crossed 16 this year and Kansas' Bob Steinhoff and Iowa State's Rex Harvey are close.

The two-mile should offer one of the meet's top races with four newcomers — Kansas' Doug Smith, Rich Elliott and Mike Solomon, and Missouri's Kerry Hogan — all under the existing mark of 9:00.2. Two potential record-breakers, Missouri's Glenn Ogden and Colorado's Craig Runyan, are close back. Both are all-American distance runners.

Defending champion George Byers of Kansas has logged a :07.1 in the 60 highs this year to equal the all-time Big Eight best and dip under what it would take to break the indoor championships' record of :07.2.

Four potent mile-relay units — Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas State, and Kansas — put the team race in record proportions. The first three have been under the 3:16.8 mark, while Kansas is only a tenth back. Oklahoma's best of 3:10.0 came on a five-lap track.

No less than seven in the long jump have done over 25 feet at one time or another, putting the old mark of 24.9 in serious jeopardy. The leader is Kansas' Stan Whitley, who has a 25-4½, the all-time Big Eight indoor best.

Wayne Long of Oklahoma has done six-flat in the 60 dash, equalling the record. This puts the mark in the "possible" category. There, too, are the standards for the 600 run, an event headed by Oklahoma's Cline Johnson; the 440, now paced by Kansas' Julio Meade, but also featuring Nebraska's Clifton Forbes (the co-holder of the best 400 meters by a Big Eight sprinter); the 1000, which boasts a trio of Kansas newcomers, Jim Neihouse, Thorn Bigley, and Roger Kathol; the 880, where the surprise leader is Colorado's Dan Peterson with a near-record 1:52.4; and the high jump, where Kansas State's Cray McGill is on the verge of hitting seven feet, equal to the record.

Sterling Raps Diller, 64-40

. . . ELK CREEK ADVANCES

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Odell — If you just saw the final score, you might think No. 1-rated Sterling didn't have a care in the world in its District D-1 basketball tournament opener here Tuesday night.

But Diller, shorter and outmanned, outhustled the lackluster Jets for three quarters of play. Diller trailed by just eight points before a barrage of buckets in the final period gave Sterling a lopsided 64-40 triumph.

In the nightcap, Elk Creek topped Barneston, 63-44. It was the third matchup and rubber game for the two this season.

A sparse crowd was on hand. Local officials said Sterling's obvious superiority over the field was to blame.

But Diller didn't believe the press notices. Though the Eagles trailed throughout, it took a final quarter spurt led by Sterling's all-stater, Cal Christline, to turn the tide.

The 6-6 sharpshooter managed only three of 14 attempts from the field in the first period and his teammates were also unable to find the range. The winners managed a slim 13-11 lead.

Though Sterling carried a rather comfortable 26-17 advantage to the dressing room at halftime, Diller made a game of it until Christline moved under the bucket and came up with a 25-point night to move the Jets to the semifinal round.

Fairgury Edges Juco Loop Foe

Kansas City, Mo. (AP) — Fairbury Junior College clinched second place in the Interstate Conference Tuesday night with a net-burning 105-101 basketball victory over Metropolitan Junior College.

Two Omaha players, Ben Brown and Ernie Britt, put the Bombers ahead in the last 38 seconds. Britt scored on a layup to gain the lead and Brown converted a free throw and a basket for the final tally.

York Surprises McCook, 94-56

York (AP) — York Junior College surprised McCook JC here Tuesday night with a 94-56 upset basketball victory.

The win vaulted York into a tie with McCook for the lead in the Nebraska Junior College Conference. McCook had been in sole possession of the lead.

York was led by Ken Ware and John Golden with 16 points each.

McCook's high man for the night was Ron Peden with eight.

NIT Berth

New York (AP) — Boston College became the first basketball team to enter the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, starting March 13.

Announcement of the entry for the 16-team tourney was made Tuesday by Herb Sutter, athletic director at Wagner College and chairman of the NIT's selection committee.

Sutter said other teams will be announced in the next few days. Many of the bids depended on the outcome of Tuesday night's games.

Sirhan Wants To Plead Guilty

Los Angeles (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan wants to plead guilty to the first-degree murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, his lawyers said Tuesday — "give up and go to the gas chamber."

Defense attorney Grant Cooper said Sirhan was aroused over what the youth considered the improper use during his murder trial of his personal notebooks, which revealed his own timetable for Kennedy's assassination.

"He said if he was going to be tried this way, he might as well give up and go to the gas chamber," Cooper told newsmen. "We're not going to let him."

Abrupt End Seen

However, it was learned that a state witness, police handwriting expert Laurence Sloan, had been told he need not return to the stand — an indication both sides might be anticipating an abrupt end to the seven-week-old trial. Sloan had not finished his state testimony, and had not been cross-examined.

The announcement of Sirhan's wish to change his plea to guilty came as the climax to a hectic day, in which the 24-year-old defendant twice interrupted his trial in an attempt to speak. Each time he was silenced.

Eight pages of Sirhan's personal diary were made public during the day by Superior Court Judge Edward V. Walker, most but not all of it eventually intended for scrutiny by the jury.

'Must Be Assassinated

Eighteen days before he shot Kennedy to death June 5, 1968, Sirhan had written: "Robert F. Kennedy must be assassinated before 5 June, 1968."

Sirhan also wrote: "I firmly support the Communist cause and its people — whether Russian, Chinese, Albanian, Hungarian or whoever."

Three notebooks were seized at Sirhan's home in Pasadena after the assassination.

"My determination to eliminate RFK is becoming more and more of an unshakeable obsession . . . Robert F. Kennedy must be sacrificed for the cause of the exploited people," Sirhan noted in a scrawl that often dwindled into gibberish at other places in the notebooks.

Some Things Shouldn't Wait

Karachi, Pakistan (AP) — When police temporarily relaxed a curfew, most people rushed about trying to stock up on necessities.

Mohammad Luqman dashed across town to get married. His wedding had been postponed because of curfew restrictions following recent antigovernment demonstrations.

Mudslide Crushes 5

Los Angeles (AP) — A mudslide loosened by 16 inches of rain since Sunday crushed to death at least five persons and left eight others missing in an Orange County canyon Tuesday night. Hundreds were rescued from floods elsewhere in California.

As skies cleared after a three-day storm, thousands left flood-threatened homes as far north as the Salinas Valley to take refuge in school buildings or homes of friends.

The massive slide of mud and debris smashed a fire station being used as an evacuation center in Silverado Canyon about 45 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

Seven who were injured were flown to hospitals in Marine helicopters. Copters flew out 100 others, stranded by floods in the Silverado area.

At Mt. Baldy in mountains east of Los Angeles a slide struck a cabin, killing three children. Their father died of an apparent heart attack running to save them.

Jet Hijacked; Second Time For Coed, 19

Miami (AP) — A young Negro with an African hairdo and a .22 caliber pistol hijacked an Eastern Airlines jet to Cuba Tuesday after pulling a gun on a stewardess, returning crew members said.

The plane landed in Miami with its crew and 59 passengers five hours and 21 minutes after the gunman — described by crew members as skinny and about 25 — commandeered the big DC8 jet. The hijacker remained in Havana.

For one of the passengers, Lynn Barlow, 19, a New York City resident who attends Hollins (Va.) College, it was the second hijack trip to Cuba in two months. She was also aboard an Eastern airliner hijacked Jan. 2.

"It was just a big bore," Miss Barlow said.

C. H. Rogovin To Head Up Crime Agency

Washington (AP) — Charles H. Rogovin, 38, an assistant attorney general of Massachusetts, has been chosen to head the federal government's new crime-fighting agency.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said Rogovin, a Democrat, will be nominated by President Nixon to be administrator of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The administrator supervises programs created under the 1968 safe streets act. Eventually, the agency is expected to administer a billion-dollar program.

In addition to Rogovin's appointment Mitchell announced that Richard W. Velde, 37, an aide to Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., will be nominated as one of two associate administrators.

MEMORIAL TO LIEBERS PROPOSED

Omaha (AP) —A citizens' advisory group to the corps of engineers has proposed a memorial park and grove at Branched Oak Lake near Raymond to honor the late Otto H. Liebers.

Members of the Nebraska Advisory Committee on Environmental Planning took a bus tour Tuesday of the proposed $485 million lower Platte dam and reservoir site which Army Engineers say may eventually become a national recreational area.

Liebers is considered the father of the Salt-Wahoo watershed project which includes Branched Oak as one of 10 reservoir projects.

A plea for the memorial was made by Dr. Joseph Young, chairman of the Horticulture and Forestry Department of the University of Nebraska. He is a member of the Liebers Memorial Committee.

The lakesite is 10 miles northwest of Lincoln.

Carbon Dioxide Claims Aquanaut

San Diego, Calif. (UPI) — Aquanaut Berry M. Cannon's death on the floor of the ocean, 610 feet below the surface, was caused by carbon dioxide poisoning, County Coroner R. L. Creason disclosed.

Cannon, 33, died Feb. 17 as he was about to enter the Sealab III habitat, parked on the ocean floor off San Clemente Island, for 12 days of living and working under water in the Navy's man against the sea program.

Need For 'Citizen Muscle' To Combat Alcoholism Seen

By JOAN LOOKER
Star Staff Writer

Today there is a great need to put "citizen muscle" behind the problem of alcoholism in America, William W. Moore, Jr., executive director of the National Council on Alcoholism told the members of the Lincoln Council on Alcoholism at the group's annual meeting Tuesday night.

"America is faced with a massive and pervasive problem," he said.

"Local and national organizations need to combine in a strong cohesive nationwide effort to combat the problem," Moore told the council.

"Most people recognize only the tip of the iceberg, but those dedicated to the problem are well aware of the hidden factors," Moore said.

"I do not need to remind you that the problem cuts across most if not all of the critical problems or our time," he said.

Moore said chronic alcoholism is linked with:

—50% of all traffic fatalities (not including drunken driving).

—33% of all poverty cases.

—50% of all penal problems.

—40% of all family court problems.

"This society has the dubious distinction of being the leading nation in the world in alcoholism," he said.

The New Yorker, who is a lecturer on voluntary agency administration at Columbia University, cited progress on two fronts in the battle against alcoholism:

—The national council is establishing a series of objectives based on a survey of all organizations working with alcoholics and all related fields, such as the American Medical Association or the Bar Association.

—Legislative committees have been established to work for federal funds and legislation. The American Cancer Society received appropriations of $185 million in 1968, the Heart Fund $166 million and alcoholism, $13 million.

In noting that the national council serves as a clearing house for the local councils, he said, "The role of the private voluntary sector has been relearned in America."

"A strong vibrant citizen agency in the community is essential, because you are talking about your own destiny," he said.

"Some adults can learn a lesson by reading the constitution of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), these youngsters are participating in their own destiny and decision making, Moore said.

Hospital Reports 13-Year-Old Girl Remains Serious

A 13-year-old girl remained in serious condition Tuesday night as the result of injuries received when she was struck by a car Tuesday morning.

Police said Eva L. Mattern received skull fractures when she was struck by a car driven by Lyle B. Eno, 57, 5140 Spruce, as she was crossing the street en route to Culler Junior High.

Eno told police he was westbound on Vine St. when the accident occurred between El Avado and Mahoney.

Miss Mattern was admitted to the intensive care ward at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Alcoholism Unit Elects Bergquist

The Lincoln Council on Alcoholism elected Don Bergquist president at the council's annual meeting Tuesday evening.

Don Bergquist

Elected President

Other officers elected were: Dr. Thomas Huxtable, vice president; Mrs. Nancy Wessner, secretary; Ralph Fox, treasurer, and members-at-large, Mrs. Hulda Roper and Alfred DuTeau.

Elected to the board for a two-year term was Mrs. Marie Arnot. Elected for three-year terms were: Mrs. Leath Lewis; Mrs. Elsie Zemke; Mrs. Donna Sutton; Don Bergquist; Warren Urbom; Leo Scherer; Bennett S. Martin; Dr. Bernard Wendt; Judge Thomas J. McManus; E. Ross Martin; Robert Camp; J. R. Dugan Doyle; Robert Keller, and Kenneth Bourne.

PTA Meeting Concentrates On Legislation

Some 125 Nebraska PTA members Tuesday attended the 13th annual legislation workshop here for briefings on state and federal educational issues.

Speakers for the session included Ross Rasmussen, executive secretary of the Nebraska State School Boards Association, and John E. Lynch, executivsecretary of the Nebraska State Education Association.

Mrs. Al Kaplan of Omaha discussed the Interstate Compact on Mental Health provided for in LB604.

State PTA legislative chairman Arnold Norskov of Albion presented the organization's national legislative program proposals which will be voted on at the state convention in McCook during April.

Members of the Legislature's Education Committee were guests of the workshop group for lunch. The senators spoke informally about their ideas for improving education.

Woodmen Accident And Life Reports New Highs For 1968

Woodmen Accident and Life Co. set records in benefits paid, income earned, insurance in force and admitted assets during 1968, President E. J. Faulkner reported Tuesday.

Reviewing 1968 results at the annual policyholders meeting, Faulkner said that life insurance in force increased 13.6% to more than $672.8 million with new life insurance business issued exceeding $139 million.

Benefits paid or provided for policyholders and beneficiaries amounted to $19,432,000 last year, Faulkner said. Total benefits paid since the company organized in 1890 amount to more than $142 million, he said.

Total income for the company in 1968 was $30,923,000, and health insurance premiums earned set a record of $14,411,000. Admitted assets totaled $80,297,000.

Faulkner said that operating results in 1968 were satisfactory because of improved investment yields and favorable mortality experience and operating economies despite higher health insurance losses.

In 1968, a "third generation" electronic computer was completed for the company's operations.

A substantial addition to the home office is being constructed for occupancy in 1970, Faulkner said.

Woodmen is participating in the construction of low-income housing in conjunction with the Lincoln Public Housing Authority and other local insurers, the president reported.

John C. Angle and C. W. Faulkner were elected to the board of directors. Re-elected for three-year terms were R. L. Spangler, George P. Abel, Paul C. Schorr Jr. and Thomas H. Wake.

Holdover directors are E. J. and R. W. Faulkner, W. S. Henrion, Henry Kleinkauf, William L. Aitken, Thomas C. Woods Jr., James W. Bradley, Ervin F. Rucklos and E. N. Thompson.

The board of directors at a meeting following the policyowners' meeting authorized the following promotions:

Heng

Herman A. Wiebers to vice president and assistant treasurer; Glen E. Thompson to secretary; W. D. Walters, John Wood, William Orr, Joseph Neal, Robert Sim and George Klein to second vice presidents; Gary Fusselman to assistant vice president; Russell High to assistant secretary; Dean Kirby to director of agency administration; Robert Lee to agency secretary; F. A. Gottschalk of senior security analyst; James Zoz to director of computer systems; Hugh McVicker to chief life underwriter; Rodney Shuman to supervisor of the unit record department; William Browne to supervisor of the benefit department; Bruce McReynolds to supervisor of the contract department, and Alan Blaha and Clifford Cox to senior auditors of the benefit department.

Officers re-elected include E. J. Faulkner, president; Spangler, board chairman; Henrion, senior vice president and treasurer; Angle, vice president and actuary; H. A. Atkinson, vice president and home security director; C. W. Faulkner, vice president and agencies director; R. W. Faulkner and O. C. Wood, vice presidents, and Wayland Mansfield, vice president of group insurance.

Other officers re-elected were Aitken, general counsel; Dr. M. P. Brolsma, medical director; G. S. Davey, second vice president of life underwriting; John Haessler, second vice president and counsel; G. M. Heaston, second vice president and home security associate director; J. J. McCuistion, second vice president of health insurance underwriting; D. K. Walcott, second vice president of sales services; M. E. Young, second vice president of contracts; R. D. Frickel, A. D. Safranek and W. R. Watson, assistant vice presidents; R. W. Mann, president's assistant and assistant secretary; Trev Gillaspie, president's assistant; R. S. Bowers, John Higgins and G. W. Chase, assistant secretaries; Clyde Johnson, controller; F. R. Rickers, associate actuary, and John Mason, accounting services director.

Gateway Bank Stockholders OK Increased Capitalization

Stockholders of Gateway Bank at a special meeting Tuesday approved an increase in the bank's capitalization.

The bank will sell 2,500 shares of $20 par value stock at $70 a share and a stock dividend of $50,000 or 2,500 shares of $20 par value stock.

Bank officials said that present shareholders will participate in the stock sale and dividend.

The directors also approved the issuance and sale of $150,000 capital notes for the bank.

The following show the approximately capitalization of the bank after the charges:

Capital	$ 350,000
Surplus	350,000
Undivided Profits	170,000
Capital Notes	150,000
Total Capital Funds	$1,020,000

President Burnham Yates told shareholders that in view of the bank's past and anticipated growth, this increase in capitalization is desirable in order to maintain balance between capital funds and asset and liability totals.
